—Senate Arrives At Voting Stage—

T-H Law Feature Is Added To Labor Bill

Administration Measure Is Amended To Require Unions To Bargain With Bosses

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The senate added a Taft-Hartley law feature to the Truman administration's labor bill today by voting to require unions to bargain with employers.

The action came on a voice vote.

The bill already contained a requirement that employers must bargain with unions. The effect of the amendment would be to make it an unfair labor practice—as in the Taft-Hartley act—for either side "to refuse to bargain collectively" with each other in good faith.

It passage was the first definite action taken by the senate in its week-long debate over changing the Taft-Hartley act.

It is one of four bipartisan amendments to the administration's labor bill, which would repeal the Taft-Hartley act and replace it with an enlarged version of the original Wagner act.

Approval of the four amendments was expected without much opposition.

Proposed Changes.

The changes, which would make the administration bill somewhat more like the Taft-Hartley act, would:

1. Require unions to bargain on request. The administration bill would apply this only to employers.

2. Require union and company leaders to sign non-communist and non-fascist affidavits—unless the union of the company itself effectively bans communists and fascists from its leadership, in which case no affidavits would be required.

3. Require unions and companies to file financial reports.

4. Guarantee "free speech" in labor relations as long as neither union nor management makes statements containing any "threat, express or implied, of reprisal or force—or offer, express or implied of benefit."

Whether action on all four amendments would be completed today depended on how many senators speak of them.

Sen. Taft (R-Ohio), one of the administration bill's major opponents, said he expected all four proposals to be approved today, after which the senate will begin a major scrap over "national emergency" strikes.

In that connection, Sen. Douglas (D-Ill) told a reporter he and Sen. Hill (D-Ala) would formally introduce a fifth amendment providing for government seizure of plants—up to 90 days—to delay strikes imperilling the national health or safety.

When the national emergency struggle is over—maybe sometime next week—Taft will try to get a lot more Taft-Hartley features into the labor bill by substituting his own proposals for the whole administration measure.

The Taft program is being vigorously attacked by Truman democrats and by labor unions.

—AEC Investigation—

Hanford's Soaring Cost Cited

Commission Blamed By Sen. Hickenlooper

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Sen. Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) charged today that the atomic energy commission didn't even know that the prospective cost of a Hanford, Wash., plant had skyrocketed from $6,000,000 to $25,000,000 until a member made a routine trip there early this year.

Yet all through 1948, Hickenlooper declared, the cost estimate had been mounting million by million. Work was started in 1947 under a contract with General Electric. The plant was designed to produce plutonium on an assembly line basis.

Pounding away at his charge of "incredible mismanagement" of AEC, Hickenlooper also told the senate-house atomic committee that a reviewing board, appointed by the AEC, made a 43-page report critical of "lack of planning and mistakes in changing procedures" in construction of the plant.

Quotes Report.

Hickenlooper quoted the report as saying that when a ventilating system was ready for installation, it was found it would not fit the building for which it was intended. He said the report said it was eventually necessary to build a new building.

Hickenlooper said Dr. Robert F. Bacher, former AEC member, learned of the increased cost on a trip to Hanford early this year and directed the attention of the AEC to it.

It was then, he said, that the review board was appointed, looked into the matter and made its report.

Hickenlooper told the committee that the board members were the AEC's "own creatures"—Adrian Fisher, general counsel; Walter Williams, production manager, and Paul Green, comptroller.

He quoted the report as saying:

"There was no clear understanding in General Electric or the atomic energy commission as to whose responsibility it was to handle costs reports."

—Coplon Trial—

Condons And Ickes Testify

Judge Permits Replies To Only Few Questions

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Harold L. Ickes and Dr. and Mrs. Edward U. Condon were called as defense witnesses in Judith Coplon's espionage trial today, but were allowed to answer hardly any questions.

They took the stand in this order: Ickes, Dr. Condon, who is head of the U. S. bureau of standards; and his wife, Emilie.

They were allowed to take the stand over the vigorous objection of John M. Kelley, jr., government prosecutor. Kelley argued that none of them could testify to anything material or bearing on the guilt or innocence of the defendant.

Answers Only One Question.

After listening to Kelley and defense attorney Achibald Palmer, Federal Judge Albert L. Reeves told Palmer to "call a witness" and said he would do his best to keep out any prejudicial matter.

Mrs. Condon, mentioned in one of the secret FBI reports Palmer has compelled the government to produce in the trial, was allowed to answer only one question. It was:

"You are the wife of the previous witness?"

"Of Dr. Condon, yes," she replied.

Palmer then asked her whether she was ever a communist.

"Object," said Kelley. "Sustained," said Judge Reeves.

Ickes Cut Off Short.

Ickes got to answer a few more questions.

Answering a question by Palmer, Ickes said he had been secretary of the interior for 13 years. Asked if he ever was "acquainted with a lady by the name of Ruth Gruber Ickes replied: "Yes."

"Was she ever your secretary?"

"No."

Palmer then suggested that mention of Miss Gruber as his secretary in one of the FBI reports was "not a fact." Ickes said it was not.

Palmer's questioning of Dr. Condon indicated a defense theory that atomic research equipment mentioned in an FBI "decoy" memorandum which figures importantly in the case was not actually a secret. This memorandum—part true and part false—said Amtorg, the Soviet trading afency, had managed to slip such equipment out of this country.

VFW Seeking V-J Holiday

. . . On National Basis

OMAHA—(AP)—Nebraska Veterans of Foreign Wars think V-J day, Sept. 2, should be a nationa' holiday.

In a resolution adopted at the VFW convention now in session here, it was recommended that the state legislature be asked to pass a bill making V-J day a state holiday.

The proposal also called for passage of a similar resolution by the national VFW encampment, loking toward making V-J day a national holiday.

Other VFW resolutions adopted Tuesday night:

Opposed any changes in the veterans preference act governing civil service classifications.

Pledged continued work toward legislation of an "adjusted service compensation, and called for a petition to congress to pass legislation allowing the beneficiary of a wartime deceased holder of national service life insurance to get a lump sum payment of the insurance if the beneficiary wishes.

A resolution asking that if a state sales tax or income tax bill is passed part of it be set aside for a World war II bonus was tabled together with VFW administrative measures dealing with convention dates and the dues structure.

Further action on resolutions was scheduled today.

Parking Suit Hearing Set For July 12

Parties to the "parallel vs. diagonal" parking fight will start slugging it out in District court July 12, it was revealed today.

The case, which has been hanging fire for more than five weeks, involves the city as defendant, Robert L. Ferguson as plaintiff, and an intervenor on the side of the city and another on behalf of the plaintiff.

Deputy City Attorney Arthur Whitworth, in announcing the hearing date, said "the city is anxious to get this case disposed of as soon as possible." The reason he gave for the delay to date was the large number of persons and attorneys involved. Also, he said two District court judges are on vacation so "we had to wait for a date."

Whitworth and City Attorney John Jacobson will argue the case for the city...that is return to diagonal parking as decreed by the voters on April 5. Attorneys Towle, Young, and Mattson will represent Ferguson.

Intervening on behalf of the plaintiff are 13 business firms located in the city's wholesale district. These firms maintain that diagonal parking will inhibit loading and unloading at their docks. The intervenor on behalf of the city is Wallie Mattice, who will be represented by Attorney F. C. Radke.

The April 5 election lined up this way:

For return to diagonal parking, 8,021.

For retaining parallel parking, 7,459.

Atty. Gen. Clark Says Reports 'Ridiculous'

Hoover Reportedly Objected Strenuously To Use Of Secret Files In Judith Coplon Trial

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Attorney General Clark today blasted as "ridiculous" reports that J. Edgar Hoover had resigned as FBI chief in a row over use of secret files in the Judith Coplon espionage trial.

To a flat question as to whether Hoover "has resigned, offered to resign or indicated he might resign," Clark snapped:

"Hell, no!"

A spokesman for Hoover responded to all inquiries with, "No comment."

The resignation reports were published today in a copyrighted story in the Washintgon Times-Herald which began:

"FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover yesterday was reported to have submitted his resignation to Attorney General Clark during a heated showdown on top-level justice department policy."

Clark "Amazed."

The story mentioned a "rumor" of the resignation and told of "authoritative" reports of the position Hoover had taken.

Clark, commenting on the story, told a reporter:

"I am amazed that a reputable newspaper would go to such lengths as to conjure up a story like that."

Frank Waldrop, editor-in-chief of The Times-Herald, said the story was carried solely as a report that had wide enough circulation to merit public attention. He said the newspaper made every effort to verify it or get an authoritative denial.

With regard to Clark's reference to The Times-Herald story, Waldrop had only this to say:

"To quote from an eminent American, J. Edgar Hoover: 'No comment.'"

Shortly before Clark was reached, White House reporters asked press Secretary Charles G. Ross whether he had any comment on the report.

News to The White House.

"It certainly is news to the White House," he said, "and I use the word news in the very broadest sense."

Asked if the White House had entered into the J. Edgar Hoover "controversy," Ross replied it had not.

Prior to Clark's and Ross' comment there had been no public word on the resignation report.

Hoover himself was unavailable. The FBI had met all inquiries with a crisp "No comment."

Clark went into a huddle with top aids immediately upon his arrival at the justice department this morning. It was understood the subject under discussion was wether to issue a formal statement on the resignation report or ignore it, since it was related to the still-continuing Coplon trial.

Clark Scoffs.

Clark then left for Capitol Hill to testify before a house judiciary subcommittee on a series of civil rights bills. Reporters met him there on his arrival.

After terming The Times-Herald story "ridiculous," Clark was asked:

"Was there any difference of opinion between you and Mr. Hoover over continuation of the Coplon trial?"

The attorney general shook his head a couple of times and replied "No."

It is known, however, that Hoover trongly objected to introduction of the secret documents.

Wet Fields Get Taste Of Sunshine

High Water Closes Road West Of Edgar

Nebraska's rain-soaked wheat and corn fields were receiving much needed sunshine Wednesday with the state's first "fair weather" in more than a week.

Fair skies prevailed over the state except for the extreme western portion, but the weather man said scattered clouds, pretty-well wrung dry, would return over the state Thursday, and predicted no precipitation.

Low temperatures tonight will fall in the low 50s and highs Thursday will be in the 80s.

A smattering of rain was recorded for the past 24-hour period ending at 6:30 a. m.: Valentine, .28; Burwell, .08; North Loup, .02, and Scottsbluff, a trace.

Meanwhile, recent heavy rains have flooded sloughs and lagoons in south central Nebraska, blocking at least one highway in Clay county.

Six-Inch Downpour.

Highway 119 west of Edgar was closed today after water from nearby lagoons covered the road to a depth of four feet. Flooding was laid to a six-inch downpour in this area Sunday. The inundated section extends for a distance of an estimated 350 yards.

Water was over the road at a few spots on Highway 14 between Nelson and Clay Center today, but traffic was getting through. One foot of water covered a portion of the highway eleven and a half miles north of Nelson Monday. However, this was dry today.

To Seek State Aid.

A delegation from the Edgar Lions club was slated to call on Governor Val Peterson in the near future to seek some aid in draining Highway 119. The action was taken following a Tuesday night club meeting.

Other highways remaining closed Tuesday, according to the state highway department, were:

No. 15, south of Dorchester, closed at Turkey creek.

No. 4, between Carleton and Davenport, closed by Big Sandy creek.

No. 8, north of Deshler, open only to one-way traffic.

No. 75, southwest of Fairbury, closed by Little Blue river.

No. 50, south of Dubois, closed.

Ex-Lincolnite May Marry Greer Garson

Oilman "Buddy" Fogelson Is N.U. Graduate

Elijah "Buddy" Fogelson, 55, a Lincolnite who went to Texas in the late 1920s and amassed a multi-million dollars fortune in the oil fields, may marry film actress Greer Garson.

GREER GARSON

Fogelson, who lived at 728 South Tenth street, graduated from Lincoln high school and completed his pre-law work at the University of Nebraska in 1920. He received his law degree from Texas-Christian university.

Excellent Singer.

He was known to boyhood friends as a youngster with a winning personality and is probably best remembered for an excellent singing voice.

Fogelson sang in the Lincoln high school glee club and at various organizational functions in the city.

He grew up and was always closely associated with his cousin Ben Fogelson, 1528 Dakota. Their fathers operated stores next to each other at Ninth and P streets for a number of years. Buddy's father's store was known as The Farmer's Store.

Mrs. Ben Fogelson said Wednesday that "Buddy" has not been in Lincoln for at least 15 years. He served as an infantry colonel during World war II and saw action in Europe.

He was named president of the South Gulf Oil corporation in 1935.

Mrs. Fogelson said Wednesday "we think Buddy will marry Greer Garson but my mother-in-law doesn't em to think so." Family opinion is somewhat varied on the subject she said.

At Ranch.

Miss Garson accompanied by her mother are said to be guests at Fogelson's New Mexico ranch and Fogelson has been quoted as saying that he will mak an announcement in a couple of days.

Miss Garson's agent, M. C. Levee, declared in Hollywood:

"I had dinner with Greer and Gabriel Pascal last Thursday. While I was there Mr. Fogelson called and suggested that Greer rest up from her recent hospital stay at the New Mexico ranch.

"I arranged for Greer to have a two-weeks vacation from M-G-M. I asked her if she was going to get married and she said, 'Heavens no, I want to finish my picture and then I may decide what I want to do.'

"She took only a few things with her and I don't believe Greer is the kind of a girl who would want to be married and have only two weeks for a honeymoon. She has to do an added scene for her picture, 'The Forsyte Saga,' and then she immediately starts her new picture, 'Europe.'"

At Rochester, a spokesman for the Mayo Brothers clinic said he "believed" the boy was the son of Dr. Charles W. Mayo of the clinic. Dr. Mayo is a son of one of the clinic's founders.

The clinic spokesman said Dr. Mayo's son was traveling with parental permission with the circus physician.

The nature of the youth's ailment was not disclosed, but a hospital spokesman said young Mayo was admitted "for observation."

The covered wagon will be met at the city hall by the City Personnel Director Ray Ramsay, who will give the welcome and briefly describe this special wagon of the era of 1849 over the loud speaking equipment to the crowd of visitors who will be on hand to inspect it.

Mayor Clarence Miles, in connection with the bond drive, Wednesday proclaimed June 16 as Opportunity Bond Day. In his proclamation the Mayor urged "all citizens to assist in every possible way the work of the saving bond committee."

He said the bond program "furthers the economic stability of the nation. . . . and is vital to the proper management of the national debt."

Nelson Gets Near Third Of Year's Rainfall In 8 Days

. . . 8.08 Inches Since June 1 Soak Area

(Special to The Star).

NELSON, Neb.—This town has figures to verify its waterlogged condition.

Since the first of June, Nelson has received 8.08 inches of rain, compared to 4.04 inches which is the average rainfall for the entire month of June. Last year the moisture figure for the first half of June totaled 4.35 inches.

To date the rainfall total for 1949 has mounted to 21.99 inches, less than two inches below the average figure for the entire 13 months.

Elk Creek At New Record High.

However, last year June was also a rainy month with 9.06 inches falling from June 1 to the 15th.

Most of this year's June deluge, 7.98 inches, came within an eight-day period, according to Vic Scherzinger, local newspaperman. The heaviest "shower" of 2.85 inches, earlier this month, sent Elk creek, running through Nelson, to an all-time record peak. At its height, the creek ran 57 inches over the floor of the stream's main bridge in Nelson.

Due to the continued rainfall, some farmers living southwest of Nelson report a complete corn crop loss, according to Scherzinger.

Ask Bids For $1,796,000 State Road Improvements

Governor's Program Begins To Roll With Second Bid Letting

Highway improvements, estimated to cost $1,796,000 and made possible by the increased gas tax authorized by the legislature, were announced Wednesday by Fred Klietsch, state engineer. Bids on the proposals will be opened July 7.

This is the second of three proposals that the highway department expects to advertise with the intention of having work under contract this year, Klietsch said. The three proposals are expected to call for an expenditure of $3,000,000 to be raised by the increased gas tax. Another letting is expected before Sept. 1.

On federal aid projects, there will be about 35 miles improved with either bituminous mat surfacing or gravel. There will be over 40 miles of federal aid secondard roads constructed with the same surfacing.

198 Miles.

The regular federal aid funds will amount to $430,000 and the secondard highway funds $215,000.

State construction projects will consist of 198 miles of bituminous surface treatment primarily. From state construction funds $995,000 will be spent. State maintenance will cost $150,000.

Resurfacing of 27 sections of gravel highway is provided in the letting. It is estimated that 72,709 cubic yards of gravel will be required for the job. This would be a pile three feet wide and three feet high extending from Lincoln to Beatrice. It would cover 415 acres to the depth of one foot.

County funds will be used for $6,000 of the work.

Brannan Missouri River Plan Termed Good Program

. . . By State Reclamation Secretary

"Generally, Secretary of Agriculture Brannan's Missouri river basin agricultural program appears to me to be a good, sound plan," Roy M. Lang, secretary-treasurer of the Nebraska Reclamation association, declared Wednesday.

Lang explained at a meeting of the Lincoln Board of Realtors that the program involves an expenditure of a hundred million dollars a year for 30 years.

Will Hinder Erosion.

The program "will help protect the soil by preventing erosion and wash through the establishment of minor pools and small dams on tributary streams and through improved farm practices," Lang said.

The program was first proposed at a meeting last month of the Missouri Basin Inter-Agency committee at Rapid City, S. D.

The only thing in the program which may not be satisfactory, Lang said, is the provision whereby the interest rates on loans made to farmers to carry out the program shall be determined by the secretary of agriculture.

He said some sort of "check" should be imposed upon the secretary in fixing these interest rates, perhaps in the form of a maximum rate.

He added that the "basin-wide agricultural program . . . is designed to complement, support and protect the vast system of engineering works being constructed in the Missouri Basin" under the Pick-Sloan plan.

Robed Band In Alabama Flogs Vet

BIRMINGHAM, Ala.—(AP)—A robed and hooded group flogged a World war II veteran last midnight after dragging him from his home.

Billy Guy Stovall, 31, said he was lashed 20 times by a band of white-sheeted and hooded men. They came to his home in three cars.

The flogging was the third incident involving robed bands in the Birmingham area within a week. Friday night Mrs. Hugh McDanal was dragged from her house and made to witness a cross burning. The same night a cross was burned at a small restaurant.

All three incidents involved white people.

Deputy Sheriff Earl Cooper quoted Stovall as saying the men drove to a wooded area on the outskirts of Birmingham. He was held by two men while another whipped him with a leather belt, striking him just above the hips. He gave no reason for the attack.

There was no Klan comment.

Slide Rule Taken—C. W. Busch, 1820 Prospect, student at the University of Nebraska, reported to police Wednesday that a slide rule valued at $26 and two books valued at $10 were taken sometime Monday from his car parked on the city campus.

VISHINSKY REQUESTS NEW MEET

. . Reply Believed Ready

PARIS—(AP)—The four-power foreign ministers met for an hour and a quarter today after cancelling a secret session they had scheduled for earlier in the afternoon.

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky had asked that the first meeting be called off, and presumably requested the new one.

The western powers have submitted proposals for a transport-trade agreement on Germany. They have asked Russia for written quarantees on the west having free access to Berlin. After contacting Moscow, Vishinsky apparently had the reply in time to request the late meeting.

Russia and the west are reported near agreement on these proposals.

Hungarian Expelled As A 'Spy'

Rajk Called Agent For Imperial Power

BUDAPEST, Hungary—(AP)—Former Foreign Minister Laszlo Rajk has been thrown out of the communist party and branded as "a spy of a foreign imperialist power and a Trotzkyist agent," a Hungarian communist communique announced today.

The communique, issued by the Hungarian workers (communist) party, also announced the exclusion of another important communist, Tibor Szoenyi, from the party.

(The communist action apparently is part of the burgeoning "Titoism" picture in eastern Europe, manifest just yesterday in the Sofia, Bulgaria, announcement that former Vice Premier Traicho Kostov had been expelled from the party.

(Both Kostov and Rajk have been suspected of following nationalist tendencies such as those which brought Tito of Yugoslavia into disgrace with his communist neighbors. This sort of nationalism balks at following the directives of the Soviet Union.)

Chambers' Bid Low On Water Pipe Line

Chambers Construction company submitted the low bid of $27,492 for a well collector pipe line in the Ashland well area. The only other bid submitted was by Dobson and Robinson, $28,473. The bids were opened Wednesday morning by City Clerk Theo Berg.

George L. Vlasnik submitted the low bid for sewer district 430, which covers L street from Thirty-third to Thirty-fifth. Dobson and Robinson again was the only competitor with a bid of $1900. Vlasnik's bid was $1837.30.

For paving district 1076—Colonial Drive from Plymouth avenue to Wnthrop Road—Abel Construction company was low bidder with $5,029.25. Dobson Bros. Construction company bid $5,074.75.

Abel Construction company submitted a second bid for paving district 1077, Sewell street from Thirtieth street to Winthrop Road. The bid was $6,865.70. Dobson Bros. bid $6,939.75 on this district.

Federal Prisoner Captured In S. D.

RAPID CITY, S. D.—(AP)—James Ellis Thornburg, 27, federal prisoner who broke jail at Chadron, Neb., early Tuesday, was caught here early Wednesday.

Thornburg was captured by Dean Barnes, state motor patrolman, after a 25-hour search in which state, county and city police combed the Rapid City area.

Contrary to earlier reports, the fugitive did not hitch a ride into Rapid City Tuesday morning. Rather, he told police, he remained in the Chadron vicinity until 8 o'clock Tuesday night and then took a pickup truck, clothing and some groceries at a ranch about 10 miles north of Chadron.

State Safety Group Seeks Local Funds

. . . From Lincoln, Omaha

The State Safety council took its problem of support and fund raising to the Lincoln-Lancaster and Omaha Safety councils Wednesday noon during a special meeting at the Capital hotel.

The state council's income was stopped recently when the legislature failed to appropfriate it additional funds.

Representing the state council were Director Ed Tinker and Dean Roy Green of the University of Nebraska engineering college, chairman of the council's finance committee. One proposal they made was to contact state civic, health, engineering and industrial organizations with a plan by which each, if it is approved, would make local collections for the council's upkeep.

All counties would be solicited, Mrs. C. M. Stewart, Lincoln-Lancaster council president, said. The fee would cover state and local membership. Funds obtained in counties without existing councils would be used to form such safety units.

Whether the Omaha and Lincoln groups will accept the state council's proposal was not announced. Attending were the 21-member governing body of the Lincoln unit and three delegates from Omaha: Glenn L. Cavanaugh, president of the Omaha Safety council; Bob Stevens, manager; and Gene Hebert, assistant manager.

Mrs. Stewart announced plans for a Lincoln inter-safety committee sponsored by the Lincoln-Lancaster council. Membersnip would be from all civic groups and clubs having safety committees, and the groups' object would be "to eliminate the duplication of time, effort and money in safety work in our community."

Nellie Reinke Named Navy Mothers' Officer

Mrs. Nellie Reinke Tuesday night was elected second vice-commander of the Navy Mothers at a meeting at the Y.M.C.A.

She succeeds Mrs. Ruth Green, who is moving to Bremerton, Wash.

The group also heard a report of the part members played in Wyuka Memorial day ceremonies and Pinewood Bowl patriotic meetings.

Beetles Destroying Forests In Unprecedented Manner

. . . 46% Of Colorado, Wyoming Timber Doomed

DENVER—(AP)—Ten years ago today, a terrible windstorm lashed at the mountain slopes of Colorado and Wyoming—and set the stage for the worst insect invasion in the history of Rocky mountain forests.

The wind blew with near-hurricane force. By nightfall thousands of trees were on the ground. In the trunks of these wind-toppled trees, the Engelmann beetle found an ideal home and a breeding ground.

He is known as the Engelmann beetle because he feeds only upon the Engelmann spruce. He has always been present in the mountain woodlands but until June 15, 1939, offered no particular problem.

Destruction Begins.

Three years later, there were so many no forest could stand before them. From an insignificant little pest, the beetle suddenly had become the most destructive insect ever to strike at western forests.

In the 10 years since the storm, while the U. S. forest service stood by helplessly without a practical weapon to fight him, the beetle has destroyed four billion board feet of timber—enough to build a house for every family in Colorado and Wyoming.

Worse Than Fires.

This silent, murderous bug has killed more trees in the Rocky mountain region than all the forest fires in a generation.

Today, the forest service says 46 per cent of the standing timber resources of Colorado and Wyoming are dead or doomed.

More than three-fifths of all Colorado's standing timber is Engelmann spruce. The beetle has destroyed one-third of all the spruce and almost one-tenth of the saw timber on all commercial forest lands in the state.

"At the present time," says the bureau of entomology and plant guarantee, "there appears to be no economical method of battling the spread of the infestation. The astronomical number of trees in need of treatment makes control economically impossible."

One man's Opinion

by WALTER KIERNAN

(Distributed by International News Serv.)

The Big Four have been unable to agree on a peace treaty for Germany . . . It looks like the Germans will just have to go on being peaceful until they do.

KIERNAN

But it was a very nice meeting . . . the western powers and the Soviet part the warmest of opponents as always.

And the anti-Soviet states are assured of our continuing financial support . . . just so long as Betty Grable continues to make $208,000 a year and the government continues to grab 86 per cent of it.

But if this frail little wage-earner ever should retire, 14 democracies will be on their own. . . . and hers are nicer.

Still, with so many nations going socialist its' wonderful to be able to earn so much money as it is here and keep so little of it as elsewhere.

Incidentally Father's Day is Sunday . . . it's not too early to tap him for a decent sum to buy him something inexpensive.

7 Reservists Die In Navy Plane Crash

Rams Canyon Wall Near Santa Monica

LOS ANGELES — (INS) — Armed forces experts examined the melted wreckage of a navy transport plane today in an official investigation of a crash which carried seven naval reservists to their deaths in fog near the outskirts of fashionable Bel-Air.

The twin-engine R4D rammed a canyon wall between Westwood and San Fernando valley.

The crash presumably occurred Monday night when the pilot radioed he could not find the landing strip at Clover field in nearby Santa Monica because of the overcast.

The still smoldering wreckage was sighted from the air yesterday.

Brannan Farm Plan Will Get Women Support

. . . Mrs. Barmore Says

City and farm women in the state will be the first to support the Brannan farm plan, Mrs. Grace Barmore, democratic national committeewoman for Nebraska, predicted in Lincoln Wednesday.

Stopping here en route to her home from the Des Moines conference, the Lexington woman declared:

"We women are convinced that the Brannan farm program will mean more food at lower prices for city families as well as a more stable income for farm families.

"That is why we are giving the program such great support."

Mrs. Barmore pointed out that the farm plan will affect "all of us, in the cities as well as the rural areas." She said it is designed not only to hold farm incomes at high levels but to encourage production of food in short supply and bring food prices down for city families.

The big job now before the democratic party in the state is to explain the plan and show its tremendous benefits to both farmers and consumers, Mrs. Barmore stated. And she believes women can play a key role in the explaining once they understand the new plan.

Scout Troop Given Flag By D.U.V.

A flag was presented Tuesday night to Boy Scout Troop No. 66 by Sarah Gillespie Tent No. 7, Daughters of Union Veterans, at a meeting of the D. U. V. organization at the Y. M. C. A.

Guest speaker Col. Don Wood, quoting from the book, "Blueprint for World Conquest," told how the communists had overthrown landowners and capitalists in Russia. He said communists are trying to do the same in America.

The speaker was introduced by Mrs. Shultz, who presided at the meeting. Benediction was given by Rev. Emil Pietz.

State's Farm Mortgage Debt Dropping Off

1.5% Decline In Past Year

The farm mortgage debt for Nebraska has declined during the past year while the average for the nation as a whole has risen 4.6 per cent, according to the University of Nebraska bureau of agricultural economics.

The decrease in farm mortgage debt in Nebraska was 1.5 per cent during the past year. The debt has dropped 20.5 per cent since Jan. 1, 1946, the bureau said.

Nebraska, Minnesota, North Dagota, South Dakota and Illinois, according to the bureau, are the only states that have shown a decline in mortgage debt in 1948.

Rural Economist L. B. Snyder of the University of Nebraska said he believes the large sale of livestock in the state, combined with a good corn and wheat crop, helped to keep the farm mortgage debt down.

And, he added, it's possible that Nebraska farmers have been "a bit more cautious" than the average tiller of the soil in the nation. Some, at least, he said, may have had unpleasant memories of the 20s.

Child Hit By Auto

Carol Ann Fugate, five-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Fugate, 920 North Fifteenth street, suffered multiple abrasions of the body and a scalp laceration Tuesday night when she was struck by an automobile on Vine street in front of the University of Nebraska coliseum.

The child was treated at St. Elizabeth hospital and dismissed. R. E. Clark, 542 North Fourteenth, driver of the car, said Carol Ann ran out into the path of his car from behind an eastbound car. He was unable to stop before his car struck the girl, he told police.

Doane To Expand Library Building

(Special to The Star.)

CRETE, Neb.—A total of $21,000 has been voted by the executive committee of the Doane college board of trustees for improvements to the school's Whitin library.

President David L. Crawford said Wednesday the project is to be completed by October 1.

The improvements will include the building of an addition to the present library which will double the structure's book and reading room space.

Plane Used In Mercy Mission For 5-Year-Old

OMAHA—(AP)—A team play involving Prairie Airways, the Omaha fire department, children's Memorial hospital and an Omaha auto dealer brought a 5-year-old Paxton, Neb., ranch boy to Omaha in a hurry last night.

The boy, Jimmy Meisner, son of Mr. and Mrs. N. E. Meisner, was thought to have polio. After being in a North Platte hospital several days, it was decided to bring him to Omaha.

Prairie Airways' ambulance plane was on another mission, so auto dealer A. E. Miller, offered his plane for the trip. Pilot Andy Anderson and Engineer Joe Soloman took off for North Platte at 6 p. m. with Nurse June Hansen of the hospital staff. They carried a portable respirator loaned by the fire department.

The plane was back in Omaha with Jimmy by 11:30 p. m. Physicians had not yet completed their examinations today, but hospital attendants said Jimmy is not in a respirator.

Ansley Girl Is Crowned Queen Of Job's Daughters

Miss Dixie Burns, Ansley, was crowned honorary queen Tuesday night at the coronation dance of the Nebraska International Order of Job's Daughters held at the Masonic temple.

Miss Norma Rowan, Sidney, and Miss Colleen Neuerburg, Hastings, were crowned honorary senior and junior princesses.

The 1948 queen, Helen Carson, Lyman, placed the crown on Miss Burns' head and the new queen was escorted to her throne by Alvin Miller, associate guardian of Bethel No. 5, Lincoln.

The princesses were crowned by their predecessors, Miss Delma Sarnes, Lexington senior princess and Miss Marilyn Harms, Bethel No. 45, Lincoln, junior princess. The ceremony was the feature event in Tuesday's session of the three-day meeting.

Following the coronation, a grand march composed of more than 500 couples preceded the dancing.

Earlier in the evening, a council dinner attended by more than 500 Job's Daughters was held at the Cornhusker hotel. Past grand guardian, Mrs. Daisy F. Bennett, Lincoln, was toastmistress.

New officers of the council, headed by Mrs. Elsie Reece, Alliance, are to be installed Wednesday night. Mrs. Reece succeeds Mrs. Pauline Moomey of Hastings, the 1948 grand guardian. Other officers are:

Floyd Lucas, Arnold, association grand guardian.

Miss Elaine Tindell, Omaha, vice grand guardian.

Gerald Thurman, Broken Bow, vice associate grand guardian.

Mrs. Helen Fite, Beatrice, grand guide.

Mrs. Fay Goodwin, Lincoln, grand marshal.

Mrs. Gertrude Laughlin, Omaha, grand secretary.

Mrs. Besse Morris, Alliance, grand treasurer.

Also at the Tuesday afternoon meeting, the grand council voted to incorporate as a non-profit, charitable organization and to appoint a committee to ask approval at the next session of the unicameral.

Wednesday morning, Bethel No. 8, Hastings, presented a model bethel. The girls picnicked at Pioneers park and a style show, tour of Miller & Paine's and tea were scheduled for the afternoon.

The three-day session will close Wednesday night with dinners for grand officers and past grand and associate grand guardians to be held at the Y.W.C.A. Preceding the installation of officers at the Scottish Rite temple, 8 p. m., a majority service for Job's Daughters over 20 will be held.

No Milk Price Hike Seen Here

No rise in Lincoln retail milk prices is foreseen for the remainder of this year.

Spokesmen of the Lincoln Non-Stock Co-op Milk Producers association and a leading Lincoln dairy said only adverse weather or other conditions would affect local prices through diminishing supply.

The federal milk price order effective July 1 under which Omaha dairymen see a one cent increase of a quart of milk to the consumer will not apply to Lincoln, the local spokesman said.

Teacher Role

The New York Times makes note that a record number of academic freedom cases involving college faculty members who charge that they are dismissed or denied promotion because of their political activities has arisen in the last year. The American Association of University Professors, which The Times says is swamped with complaints, is conducting investigations to determine whether the teachers have just cause.

It should not be too difficult to get to the bottom of this thing. If a teacher subscribes to the communist doctrine of the overthrow of American government there isn't any cause for complaint. We would go a step further. If a teacher fancies communism over democracy there must be a screw loose some place, and that in itself tosses a question mark upon the teacher's competence to instruct American youth.

But that isn't what the trouble is about. The rare, isolated case of a communist in an instructional role is a smoke screen employed to inject terror in every educator who departs from the orthodox view of America held by the National Association of Manufacturers, or perhaps the United States Chamber of Commerce, or other conservative thinkers. To that, anybody who honestly believes in freedom of political thought must give a most emphatic "no."

Grasshopper Thoughts

What does a grasshopper think when he thinks? This is to acknowledge an underground report from Wyoming and Montana, via grapevine. Out in Wyoming and Montana in a 30-million-acre danger zone, the grasshopper population is reputed to be greatly disturbed by news that government entomologists have mapped a full-scale air campaign against them. The plan is to spray these critical areas with 'hopper poison—a type of atom bomb attack that promises to produce a 99 per cent destruction. We confess to a lack of sympathy for the 'hopper protest. We never could discover anything beautiful or useful about a fat 'hopper, except that when impaled upon a hook he not infrequently lured a fish to dangerous living.

The East Swelters

An Ohioan returning to Nebraska in early June for a visit, marveled upon the lush, green countryside. He said normally summer-blooming Ohio, blessed with dependable rainfall, was suffering a mild drouth. And the further east one goes the worse it gets. Washington has just smashed all records with 18 days of rainless heat. Pennsylvania, New Jersey, parts of New York state, and all of New England have been experiencing the novelty of a shortage of moisture. It gets critical there much quicker than the people of the deep-soil states realize because red clay, sand and rock do not seem to store up the amount of subsoil margin that exists in many other areas. In Washington a few years ago the loss of trees through drouth in a single season hit a new high. For the time being the people of the plains states know a moisture abundance wholly out of character with the history of this region.

No Answer To Highways

The statement issued by Chris Milius, president of the Nebraska Farmers union; Charles Marshall, president of the Nebraska Farm Bureau federation; and Bryan Homes, master of the Nebraska Grange is a curious mixture of candor and evasion. All three men are widely, favorably known in this state, deservedly so for consistent labors looking towards the improvement of Nebraska rural life. In announcing a referendum campaign against two legislative measures increasing the gasoline tax and motor vehicle registration fees, jointly the three say this:

"We, farm people, feel that the legislature did not provide an answer for road problems. Just voting more taxes will not solve the problem until the state has a complete over-all program. Until the program is clearly outlined, we do not feel that more taxes should be voted."

Of course it is not compulsory upon the three to tell Nebraskans what they regard as an over-all program. They have expressed themselves critically upon what is proposed. They have insisted individually that a larger portion of gasoline tax and motor vehicle registration fees should be allocated to the construction of farm roads. To put it bluntly, the Farm Bureau Federation has taken the position that the building of farm roads is primarily the financial responsibility of Nebraska's urban population, since the great bulk of automobile license fees and the great bulk of gasoline tax revenues is paid by city people. The farmer, they seem to forget, enjoys a tax exemption upon all gas used for agricultural purposes, now approximating a millon dollars a year.

Two years ago the Schroeder road program was set up under this leadership. It captured the money from gasoline tax previously allocated to old age assistance, imposed a cigaret tax for the support of old age assistance, then offered what they said was a sensible solution of the farm highway program. In effect for nearly two years, the Schroeder road bill sponsors now belittle its value. It, we are told by these men, is no answer to the road program.

★

They are crystal clear about what they do not want; anything but clear in giving details of what will satisfy them. They know, or should know, roads cannot be built overnight. They surely understand that before there can be a program there must be the money to finance it. We cannot bond ourselves, or go into debt. We are on a strictly pay-as-you-go basis. The foundation of any Nebraska highway program is the money to finance it, and until provision has been made to finance it it is absurd to talk about an over-all program. They are against the only financing program brought forward.

What we're apparently heading for is fresh misunderstanding between rural and urban peoples. The people in the cities have a little bit of trouble themselves these days. 'No gasoline tax revenue placed the paving in front of their homes or place of business. It was paid for, through the nose, from property taxes, levied against the owner.

We go along with farm leadership in suggesting that urban peoples should assist in the development of a farm-to-market highway program. They are helping to do that very thing today. Thousands who never drive a hundred miles beyond the borders of their community are paying increased gasoline tax and increased registration fees to build roads, and doing it cheerfully. But there is a limit, which seems to be ignored. We see no good coming out of fanning the fires of fresh misunderstanding between farm and city folks. There is enough of that already. We should work together, shoulder to shoulder.

THE MATTER OF AMERICAN FAITH

A man has eyes to see, ears to hear, nose to smell. He possesses a mouth to enable him to converse with his fellow men. We are not particularly concerned with the color of his eyes, shape of his ears or mouth. We don't give a continental damn whether he is a registered republican or a democrat. The man we are looking for, handsome or ugly, republican or democrat, is a chap with a little bit of faith in the inherent decencies of the American people, a little pride in their capacity for production, in their genuine composite creative spirit to work, sweat, plan, produce, save, within reason to stand on their own feet and swap punches with whatever comes along, good or bad.

★

Maybe the preceding paragraph conveys a faint idea of the attack of nausea produced by flaring newspaper headlines, doleful long columns of type, supplemented by minutes of radio chitchat that has Uncle Sam laid out on the undertaker's slab, ready for burial. A young woman living out at Fairmont, Nebraska, started it the other day with a letter to the editor. She commented on the pleasure she got from reading a story that had a little cheer and faith in it, a homespun tale of warming human aspirations. She is tired, choked to the ears with this avalanche of dark tales about communist plotting, conspiracy, recession and depression. She feels we are the most fortunate people on earth, living under the finest government in the world.

★

The little woman has a point. If there is such a thing as psychology, a portion of American leadership is overdoing this thing of talking the blues, and fearing the worst. Where in the world is there a countryside seen in these days of June to match the region stretching eastward from the Rockies, and north and south between the Canadian boundary and the Gulf of Mexico? There is more food that sticks to the ribs there than there is in any other spot in the world. But volume is off, profits are off, not quite as many people are working this June as drew paychecks at the peak tide of late 1948, and so we cry and wring our hands, and wind up with a low moan. Perhaps a good kick in the right spot might stiffen a few spines—temporarily, at least.

★

We produced more food from 1941 to 1948 than any other modern country. Our factories turned out more industrial products than any other modern nation. We still have the land, the factories, the machines and the raw materials, and we still have the know-how—and in spite of the calamity howlers now having a field day in this country we still have the incentive to work. In the last five years we have been tackled by only three panhandlers on the streets. Remember the tale of Coxey's army? Remember the veterans' bonus march on Washington after World war I? Remember the farm moratoriums and the farm holidays of the early '30s? Remember a country that was without electricity, cities without modern paving, only dust roads, people with only one pair of shoes and one suit of clothes or one dress which served for week day wear and Sunday best? Remember when a stick of striped candy was sheer delight, a dainty lace handkerchief the wonder of the neighborhood? Well, there was a generation of Americans who came through all that, and lived to see a greater nation.

★

We are not interested today in the color of his eyes, shape of his ears, or the political party with which he may affiliate, but we think a lot of other people, along with us, would rejoice to hear the strong voice of a leader strong in his faith in America to lead us out of fear, and its mounting hysteria into a commonsense appreciation of our own strength, honest purpose, and capacity to govern ourselves for continued economic and spiritual growth. Republican or democrat, party affiliation is of no importance in this need for a new sensible American leadership. Sure we are going to have to work—every mother's son or daughter of us. Sure we're going to have to plan, save a little bit every month, sacrifice individually, every mother's son or daughter of us. We will be the better for it. But nothing short of national insanity will consent to a continuance of this mounting hysteria of fear that is putting us into a sickbed. It has been going on for months. It is time that those who are contributing to it get the rebuke they so richly deserve. The very essence of American faith has never condoned cowardice, faint-heartedness, mounting fears such as characterize much of public utterance today. What we need at this time is a large dose of homespun American faith in ourselves.

OFF THE RECORD

By ED REED

"The boss says he appreciates the way you cleared up all that extrat work before your vacation."

The DAILY WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

TRADE MARK REGISTERED

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON— White House insiders marvel at the way Secretary of State Acheson reports to President Truman on almost every detail of the Paris conference. The White House is almost as up-to-date on what the foreign ministers are talking about as Acheson's own assistants in Paris.

Acheson tells friends that he learned about White House reporting from Jimmie Byrnes; for it was Jimmie's failure to send detailed reports to the president that led to his first break with Truman. Acheson relates how, when Byrnes attended the Moscow conference as secretary of state, he sent almost no reports to Truman. Thereby hangs part of the still-untold mystery of why the popular and sometimes impulsive Jimmie Byrnes suddenly resigned.

PEARSON says that the scanty reporting of James F. Byrnes (above) when as secretary of state he attended the Moscow conference led to his break with President Truman. Even the final agreement was broadcast long before Byrnes got around to cabling it to the state department.

Acheson, who was acting secretary of state while Byrnes was in Moscow in 1946, has told part of the story to close friends. During that time he saw the president five times a week, in addition to being summoned on other occasions, and was constantly embarrassed at not being able to report on what was happening at Moscow.

Several times Acheson cabled Byrnes asking for reports, but sometimes he never even got an acknowledgment. Dean figured that the messages went to Byrnes's devoted secretary, Miss Cassie Connors, who probably reasoned to herself that Byrnes was tired and shouldn't be bothered with reporting to Washington.

At one time, Byrnes cabled: "Tell Maud (Mrs. Byrnes) that my cold is better." But he cabled little or no information to Truman.

• • •

What got Truman particularly irked was that the final protocol signed at Moscow was broadcast by the Moscow radio long before Byrnes cabled it to the state department. Therefore, the president, who had flown out to Independence, Mo., read the final results in the morning papers almost before he got a report from the state department.

Truman was further irked when Byrnes, flying back from Moscow, sent a message to Bill Benton, assistant secretary of state for public inforamtion, telling him to arrange for a radio broadcast in which Byrnes would report to the American people.

When Byrnes arrived, Acheson went to the airport to meet him and, while driving home, Jimmie casually mentioned his forthcoming broadcast. "What broadcast?" asked Acheson. Byrnes told him.

Knowing that Truman was irked, Acheson hinted that it would be wise to report to the president before going on the air.

• • •

Truman, however, had gone down the Potomac on the yacht Williamburg—perhaps as a deliberate rebuff to Byrnes. This made the Secretary of State highly indignant, and Acheson had a hard time explaining that this was Truman's only way of escaping a constant stream of callers. Truman, he explained, has been just as busy as Byrnes.

This led to a heated argument between Byrnes and Acheson while driving from the airport; zut in the end, the secretary of state flew down the Potomac to see Truman, got stranded by bad weather, and became further annoyed when Acheson implied that he hadn't fully reported the Moscow proceedings. To settle the argument, Acheson had a complete set of the telegrams he sent to Byrnes, and the replies Byrnes had sent him, placed before Truman so he could judge for himself.

This incident was the first time the sparks flew between Truman and Byrnes.

• • •

Things calmed down later. But the real fact is that Jimmie's scanty reporting of the Moscow conference started the chain of circumstanes that led to his sudden resignation.

There was always a suspicion in Truman's mind that Byrnes, older, far more experienced, and a candidate for the vice presidency at the 1944 Chicago convention that nominated Truman, looked down on him, constantly recalled that save for a twist of fate he would be in Truman's shoes.

With years of experience behind him—in the senate, on the supreme court, as war mobilizer—Byrnes frequently acted on his own without clearing policies with Truman.

• • •

Not robust in health, he also pushed himself so hard that his doctor eventually told him he would have to resign or shorten his life. So Byrnes wrote the president a cordial letter explaining the circumstances, said there was no immediate hurry and suggested he might step out after the New York meeting of the United Nations in the winter of late 1946.

But while Byrnes was in New York conducting the U. N. meetings, he learned that Truman had sounded out Gen. George C. Marshall about becoming secretary of state.

This confirmed an earlier report, officially denied by the White House, that Truman wanted to replace Byrnes with General Marshall. This time Jimmie hit the ceiling and called Truman on the telephone. Truman also got irked and told his secretary of state to go take a sedative.

• • •

This was too much for the warm-hearted, impulsive Jimmie. He sent a perfunctory telegram to the president. It read: "In view of your unsympathetic attitude, I resign immediately."

Truman, also sore, took Byrnes at his word. He appointed General Marshall almost immediately as secretary of state.

NOTE—Acheson tells friends how Marshall, in contrast to Byrnes, always answered every telegram sent by the state department or White House during international conferences. At Moscow, Marshall detailed a special secretary to acknowledge all letters and telegrams. Sometimes the telegram merely informed the White House that Marshall would be stuck in conference for the next three hours and therefore couldn't answer. Real difference between the two men was that Byrnes played diplomacy by ear, didn't have time to send reports. Marshall, on the other hand, couldn't play diplomacy except by paying close attention to the musical score.

• • •

The president was receptive, but noncommittal, when delegate Joe Farrington of Hawaii urged him to intervene personally in the longshoremen's strike that has paralyzed shipping to and from the islands.

"The strike is now in its 39th day, with no prospect of settlement," Farrington reported. "Federal conciliators have had no luck, nor have local authorities. All shipping is blockaded, with the result that the health and welfare of our people are in grave jeopardy. It appears now that only the full power of the federal government can break the strike."

• • •

Truman replied that several "avenues of action" were being studied by the justice department, but added that he doubted he had "adequate authority" to intervene personally.

"Why don't you ask congress for the authority, Mr. President?" suggested Farrington. "This is urgent."

"Well, as you know, I haven't had much luck with my recommendations to the congress," replied Truman, with a half-grin.

NOTE—The Taft-Hartley injunction clause might be invoked if the Hawaiian strike could be proved a national emergency, which Truman advisers doubt. However, the president has no intention of invoking the Taft-Hartley law at a time when he is demanding that congress repeal it.

A PREDICTION

Crab Orchard, Neb.

To the editor of the Lincoln Star: The democrats will win in the national election in 1950 and 1952. That is becoming surer as the days go by. It goes for Nebraska, too.

More and more people are coming to realize that if the people ever get what they want most, namely continued prosperity, equality of opportunity, better living, security, they will have to elect the democrats again by a tremendous majority showing that they mean business. Everyone should read "The Republicans Talk Back" (Colliers, June 18), an eye-opener. One man from Beatrice wants his money back. The people are getting tired of listening, every time something is proposed to improve their condition, to some republican politician piping up that it is socialism or would lead to socialism, the latest coming from Nebraska's junior senator at the cattlemen's convention, in discussing the Brannan farm program. Men 80 to 90 years of age have heard that all their lives. They know that is intellectual bankruptcy.

The increase in crime is laid at the feet of law enforcement agencies. Anyone taking life, except in self defense, has forfeited his own right to life and should be speedily put out of his misery. Many times courts sentence murderers to prison, giving the criminal a chance to get out and take a second life or a third. One way to help in the crusade against crime is to mete out adequate, fitting penalties.

NOTHING REVOLUTIONARY.

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: News Commentator Peter Edson reports that Secretary of Agriculture Brannan, in presenting his farm program, felt no obligation to come up with anything revolutionary. Everything in his plan has been tested, found workable. It will require no bureaucracy to administer. It will modernize the parity price formula, which is still based on conditions and averages of some 30 years ago and now out of date. He is determined to get a formula which will stabilize farm incomes as distinguished from farm prices—as the basis of farm prosperity. In 1948 the average annual per capita farm income was $909. In non-farm areas the average annual income was $1,200 per capita. In other words the average farm income is about 60 per cent of the average city income. He believes farm income should be raised to

WASHINGTON CALLING

by MARQUIS CHILDS

WASHINGTON — The fantastic lengths to which the loyalty search is being pushed are daily more apparent. It would be absurd if it were not so serious for the well-being of the nation.

In this and a following column I want to analyze a case that seems to me to illustrate both the absurdity and the tragedy of what is happening. Quite apart from considerations of justice and ethics, it illustrates, too, the waste of time and money in a pursuit that seems to have less and less relation to the realities and necessities of the present day.

Marquis Childs

Mrs. Anne V. Alling, who has given me permission to present the details of her case, is 59 years old. Until she was suspended on a finding of the fourth regional loyalty board, which is the board for Washington, she was a stenographer in what is known as the "blind pool" at the veterans administration.

• • •

Because of several eye operations, Mrs. Alling has very limited vision and with several stenographers who are totally blind she typed from dictaphone records. The typing she did was about veterans' insurance and had nothing to do with anything remotely secret.

Mrs. Alling's husband suffered severe wounds in World war I and in 1929 they went to France because they thought it would be easier to live there on his pension. In France, Mrs. Alling became interested in communism. She met and talked with French communists.

Mrs. Alling is a type fairly common in this country. Her religious background contained strong elements of pacificism and the kind of idealism that accepts uncritically the ideals professed by others. They must be good people if they say they mean to be kind to everyone and end the evils of the earth. In this naive fashion many earnest, decent Americans were deceived about the aims of communism and particularly in the cruel years of the great depression.

• • •

Returning to their home in Atlanta, Ga., Mrs. Alling interested herself in the cause of justice for the Negro. In 1934 the Atlanta police raided her home and arrested seven people who were holding what they said was a "current events" meeting.

One of them was a Negro. Mrs. Alling was held in jail for three weeks without bail under a charge of "inciting to insurrection." Subsequently this law was declared unconstitutional by the United States Supreme court. Even after the experience she continued to make small contributions to the international labor defense, since put on the attorney general's proscribed list. . . In that same year her husband died of his World war I wounds.

The transcript of Mrs. Alling's hearing before the regional loyalty board is nearly 100 pages in length. As she has done several times before, she denied under oath that she was ever a member of the communist party. At times the interrogation seems almost as though it had been intended to be a burlesque on itself!

Question: Do you remember whether or not you told her (a woman suspected of being a communist in 1942 whom Mrs. Alling could not recall) that you were knitting for the Russian war relief and volunteered to teach any comrade how to knit?

Answer: No I don't remember anything about that, and I don't remember knitting for the Russian war relief. Maybe I did knit a sweater. I think I did that for England, too; not just for Russia. Maybe I did but I can't remember that, but I could have . . . .

Question: Well, almost all of us were knitting for the Red Cross and the things were channeled through to various places. I wondered why Mrs. Alling knitted especially for Russia. That was what I was trying to determine.

Answer: I wasn't just interested in Russia.

Mrs. Alling was questioned at length about her thesis for a master's degree in French at Emory university in Atlanta. It dealt with one of the novels of Andre Gide, who last year received the Nobel prize for literature. Mrs. Alling said it had nothing to do with communism.

At one time three FBI men, ablebodied and supposedly intelligent, were concentrated on a phase of the Alling case. How could this woman possibly be a threat to the security of a great and powerful nation? How have we become so preoccupied with fear? It seems to be high time that we asked ourselves some searching questions about our present state of near hysteria.

THE FORGOTTEN MAXIMS

"See a pin and let it lie,
You'll come to want before you die."
Can sixty years have flown away
Since that I heard my mother say?

"A penny saved, a penny earned."
'Twas from my father that I learned.
This was his great concern for me:
That thrifty I should grow to be.

When I was but a youngster small,
Upon my grandad's workshop wall
I used to read in letters bold
A card which "Waste not; want not!" told

Old-fashioned mottoes, one and all,
With counsel wise that I recall;
True now, as then, but all the lot
Today discarded or forgot.

Curtis Approves Board Decision On Air Service

WASHINGTON, D. C.—The approval by the Civil Aeronautics Board of the use of single-engine aircraft for feeder lines in Nebraska was praised Wednesday by Rep. Carl T. Curtis (R-Neb) as a "boost to Nebraska aviation."

In a letter to James D. Ramsey, director of the Nebraska department of aeronautics, the Nebraska gongressman said:

"I believe this new ruling will serve as a go-ahead signal for those aircraft companies that have been certificated for service to various Nebraska towns but have been unable to stand the expense of instituting service with twin-engine planes.

"I am glad that you called the matter to my attention and I was glad to do all I could to obtain approval of this change. I believe that the initiation of this service will be a boost to Nebraska's aviation and will greatly faciliate transportation for the citizens of Lincoln and other Nebraska cities."

It is expected that the ruling will have "considerable bearing" on the air service in Nebraska by a company certificated June 24, 1948, to operate a feeder line serving Lincoln, North Platte, McCook, Lexington, Kearney, Grand Island, Hastings, Fairbury, Beatrice, Omaha, Fremont, Columbus and Norfolk.

Rent Case Dismissed

Federal Judge John W. Delehant has dismissed the rent overcharge suit of Floyd E. Morgan against Browning Warren. Dismissal followed filing of a request for dismissal signed by both parties.

Morgan had asked $1,050 for treble damages on an alleged overcharge of $350 on rent on an apartment at 805 South Eighteenth. Warren had answered that the apartment had been furnished and that the rent charged was therefore not illegal.

Forbes, N.E. Band Director, Taking Scottsbluff School Post

Vernon A. Forbes, instrumental director of band and orchestra at Northeast high school, has accepted a similar position in the Scottsbluff schools.

Vernon Forbes

According to announcement Tuesday night by Charles Davis, jr., Scottsbluff schools superindeudent, Forbes will assume the directorship this September.

In Lincoln Wednesday, Mr. Forbes, local resident for 30 years and on the Northeast faculty for the last seven years, said, "It has been hard to make the decision to leave." He praised "community support" here, describing it as "superb."

Meanwhile, Dr. Gilbert S. Willey, superintendent of Lincoln schools, said no immediate move had been made to name his successor.

Mrs. Forbes will be head bookkeeper at Scottsbluff high school, Mr. Forbes said. Both she and Forbes were graduated by the University of Nebraska school of music in 1925.

Following the awarding of his bachelor of music degree that year, Mr. Forbes went on to receive his bachelor of fine arts degree from the university in 1934 and his master of music in 1948.

From 1939 to 1944, he was an instructor in Nebraska Wesleyan university's instrumental music department. For about two years during the last war he conducted a northeast Lincoln community orchestra, which he organized.

Symphony Charter Member.

Mr. Forbes is a charter member of the Lincoln Symphony orchestra and of the university honorary music fraternity, Phi Mu Alpha. He played with the orchestra from 1927 to 1944.

The Forbes' son, "Bus," will accompany them to Scottsbluff and complete high school there. Their daughter will continue attending the University of Nebraska, where she is a junior.

Mr. Forbes will succeed James Johnson. Johnson resigned to take charge of instrumental music activity at the Norfolk schools.

HASTINGS, Neb.—(AP)—Dr. J. M. Olson, superintendent of the Nebraska State Historical society will be principal speaker tonight at the Hastings municipal museum, the House of Yesterday, in a tenth anniversary program.

Mayor Carl E. Pratt, sr., and museum Director W. E. Eigsti, and members of the museum board of directors and Stanley Abbott of Hastings who directed a citizens committee in obtaining funds for election of the museum building also will be speakers.

Stanley Abbott is a cousin of Dr. Charles Greeley Abbott, former secretary of the Smithsonian institution at Washington D. C. who was the principal speaker at the House of Yesterday ceremonies here in June, 1939.

The museum, a WPA project, was completed in 1939 and houses some of the finest and most extensive Indian relic collection and pioneer gun displays in this section.

GARDEN GLANCES
WITH THE MOON

"Whether man sow or reap the fields.
Divine monition Nature yields.
That not by bread alone we live.
Or what a hand of flesh can give."
—William Wordsworth.

By CECILE PARRISH SWINGLE.

It is third lunar quarter and tonight after midnight the moon will enter the watery and fruitful sign, Pisces. Fourth lunar quarter will begin Saturday morning at 6:29 and at 45 minutes past noon on Saturday the moon will enter the fiery and barren sign, Aries.

When the moon is in third quarter and a fruitful sign, plant those things that produce their yield in the soil, as carrots, beets, parsnips, onion seeds and late summer bulbs. But—our garden is far too wet for any planting, even though we'd like to make plantings of the vegetables just mentioned.

We always let our parsnips remain in the ground through the winter and dig them as we need them. So late-planted ones do very much better for us. "When did you dig them last winter?" you ask. We didn't. We didn't happen to plant any last year—not because we were farsighted and knew the ground would be frozen for months and months and no one but Superman could possibly get a spade into it—but—it was just like this: Sometimes don't you plant one thing and another forget all about planting it for one reason or another? So do we. And lucky it was that it was parsnips last year. No time wasted in planting or attempted digging in the cold and rugged winter.

Oh, you want to know how we came home from Vancouver. Excuse me for skipping, but it was mostly mountain driving and very, very scenic. We made only one-night stops for sleep and there just wasn't time to write a coherent column and get it mailed before we had to be on our way again in order to cover as much ground as possible in daylight.

Visits Wenatchee.

It is just 30 miles from Vancouver to the border at Blaine where we crossed and went through our United States customs. All the purchases we had made in Canada were inspected by the customs officers and we were soon on our way. This never takes too long if one is under the hundred dollars allowed duty free and careful to list the purchases properly and to place them where they are easily inspected. Then we continued on to Everett and turned east there to Wenatchee.

Wenatchee, "the apple capital of the world"! We had a good night's rest at the Cascadian hotel and awoke Sunday morning to our first summertime weather and also their first, so we were told. It was 84 degrees at noon and seemed much more to us because we had a slight car difficulty just as we were ready to take flight. The gears locked, of all things, and not a mechanic was available for hours. Sunday school, fishing and the gun club had claimed them all, so their wives said. When Sunday comes to Wenatchee all industry stops, and that is well, but a bit exasperating for the traveler. Luckily a young and eager lad came by the garage who not only knew what wa wrong but how to fix it, and we were away.

We debated and decided to go the 22 miles out of our wa and see Grand Coulee dam, arriving at Wallace, Ida., after dark because of this. But I hope it was worth it.

So until Friday.

Scientist Protects Friends

Frank Oppenheimer Convinced All Are Loyal, Decent People

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Atomic scientist Frank Oppenheimer, an admitted former communist, apparently is not going to be pinned down to telling house investigators whether some of the people he knew were reds, too.

Chairman Wood (D-Ga) of the house un-American activities committee said that Oppenheimer and his wife "unquestionably" can be cited for contempt for refusing to tell. But the committee obviously was planning no action along that line—action that could lead to fines and jail terms.

Gesture "Foolish."

"It would seem a foolish gesture on the part of the committee," Rep. Walter, (D-Pa) said, "inasmuch as they are not party members now. They impressed me as being intellectual do-gooders who were misguided."

The Oppenheimers testified yesterday that they were card-carrying, dues-paying communists from 1937 to about the beginning of 1941.

That was before Oppenheimer went to work on the atomic bomb project, where he said he stayed from late 1941 until 1947. Oppenheimer said in a statement that during and after his communist affiliation he was a loyal American, had nothing to do with espionage, and knew of nobody else who had.

But time and again, he and his wife declined to say whether various acquaintances were communists. Oppenheimer said he didn't "break off any friendships" when he left the party, that the people he had known through his lifetime were decent people who never did or said anything hurtful to this country."

Farmer Gets Vacation And Milking Done Too

PLYMOUTH, Eng.—(AP)—For 20 years farmer Joe Trevethan's vacation plans were gummed up by one problem: What about the milking?

This year, at last, he solved it. He rented a field for two weeks at Lewdown, his chosen vacation spot. Then he packed the cow and her calf into a truck and took them along.

More than 40 different species of orchids grow in some states.

Nebraskans Low In Birth Rate Survey

Based On 25th Reunion Classes Of Two Colleges

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Nebraska college graduates make a poor showing in the fourth annual college birth rate survey of 25th reunion classes of the country, the population reference bureau said today.

Neither of the two co-operating colleges, Nebraska Wesleyan and Hastings, excel the national average of 1.77 children per reporting male graduate and 1.26 children per female graduate, the bureau explained.

Ranking 42nd among 106 colleges, Nebraska Wesleyan men of 1924 are high with 1.70 children each. The bureau said they fail by 20 per cent to reach the replacement level of 2.1 children which it estimates is needed to perpetuate a college class.

Women of Nebraska Wesleyan, according to the survey, can boast only 1.11 children. They, the bureau said, will replace only 53 per cent of the 25th reunion class. Nebraska Wesleyan women share 45th place in the nation with Rosemary college, Illinois, and Alabama college.

The bureau said Hastings graduates of 1924 were reproducing even fewer children. The men report 1.20 children per alumnus to surpass only six other colleges. The .49 children of the women is ahead of only two colleges participating in the survey.

Stable Times Within Year Are Predicted

. . . By Owen D. Young

LOS ANGELES — (INS) — Retired industrialist Owen D. Young foresees a "relatively short period of readjustment" followed by a new stable American economy by the middle of next year "as distinguished from inflated prosperity."

Young, former board chairman of General Electric Corp., declared that "what is going on now is wholesome from every point of view." He added: "We are returning to a much more normal course of business and getting the purchasing power of the dollar much closer to where it should be."

Young predicted a gradual lowering of prices, but no serious break, to be followed by "a real balance between production and consumption." He said:

"Younger men in many organizations have never yet faced the problem of selling goods. From now on, sales representatives are going to have to sell. This will be a good thing psychologically for business as well as individuals."

Hush-A-Phones Hearing

Walter F. Roberts, railway commissioner, will sit as a co-operator at a federal communications commission hearing in Washington Aug. 23 on use of "hush-a-phones." The device is said to scramble conversations and prevent wire tapping. Telephone companies object to use of the attachment.

Clay County 'Unjust' Tax Burden Cited

By Rep. Curtis; Situation Due To Military Bases

WASHINGTON—(AP)— Establishment of military bases in Nebraska has created "unjust" tax burdens, Rep. Curtis (R-Neb) told the house in urging approval of legislation designed to afford relief to areas so affected.

Since federal property is not subject to taxes, higher taxes must be levied on remaining property, he said.

"It is an unjust burden. It is causing taxes to be too high."

Nebraska has several communities, he said, in which the government has taken property for naval or military establishments. He particularly mentioned Clay county.

"Almost a third of this county," he said, "has been taken in the last 10 years by the federal government.

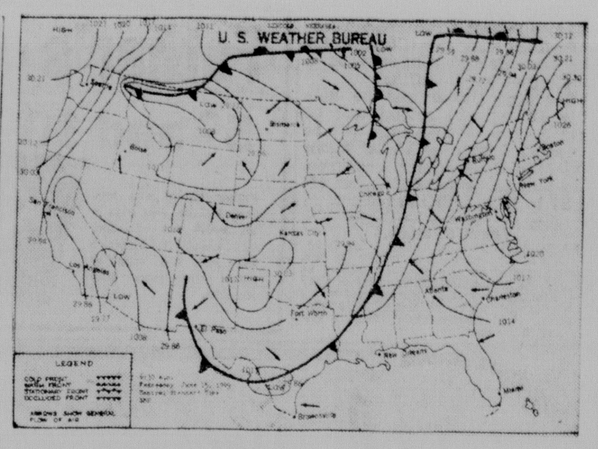
"The largest area which now belongs to the federal government comprises the Hastings, Neb. naval munition depot. Also in Clay county is the Harvard army air base. This airfield has been discontinued, but the naval base is a permanent establishment."

He told the committee this property was good land.

"Relatively speaking, it carried a high evaluation for the purposes of taxes," he said. "Removal of this property from the tax rolls means that in order to raise sufficient money to carry on the government of the towns and cities, the county government, as well as run the schools and build the roads and bridges, the money must be raised from the remaining property," he said.

He pointed out that Nebraska has no income or general sales tax and raises its tax funds almost entirely from real estate and property taxes, adding:

"We feel the inasmuch as the facilities of local and state government are available to government employees using this land and that the state and local governments render necessary service and protection to the federal government, the federal government should be treated as any other property owner."



WEATHER BUREAU SUMMARY—Movement of drier air over the Plains has brought the shower period to a close, for the present, over Nebraska and Kansas. The eastward progress of the trough of low pressure and cold front have been attended by rainfall from the Great Lakes to the southern States. Over 2 inches fell at Chicago and Milwaukee. Nashville, Tenn., received 3.40 inches, and Huntsville in extreme northern Alabama 2.75. Pleasant daytime temperatures have continued in the midwestern States and hot weather has been prolonged in southwestern border States, where temperatures considerably above 100 degrees occurred in the interior valleys of California and eastward through southern Arizona to the Rio Grande Valley. Lowest early morning temperatures were in the 40s and 50s from the Dakotas to Nebraska and in the middle and northern Rockies.

Corn Borer Damage May Invade State

If Weather Stays Cool, Says Hixson

Corn borer eggs in the Lincoln vicinity will start hatching in six to 10 days if the weather remains cool, Dr. Ephriam Hixson said Wednesday.

The University of Nebraska entomology department chairman said the extent of the damage from corn borers this year cannot be predicted. If the farmer finds 40 egg masses per 100 plants in his sweet corn, Dr. Hixson said, a treatment with insecticide would be warranted.

Found Under Leaf.

And, he said, if 50 egg masses per 100 plants are found in field corn, a dose of insecticide is practical, he stated. The corn borer in the larvae stage eats the leaves of corn and can be found on the underside of the leaf.

The entomology department recommends 20 pounds of 10 per cent DDT per acre in dust form or six pounds of ryania per 100 gallons of water for a spray.

Corn borer damage in eastern Nebraska, the entomologist said, has not been serious enough to justify control measures. But, he added, control may be necessary this year.

Indiana Fliers Unhurt In Crash

BROKEN BOW, Neb.—(AP)—Two Indiana fliers walked away from the crash of their light plane here Tuesday.

The plane cracked up during a take-off from a pasture near Dunning, Neb. It had made a forced landing in the pasture because of a low ceiling. It was en route to North Platte.

The pilot, John Prise, 34, manager of the Huntingburg, Ind., airport, received a lacerated lip. His companion, Bob Kelley, 18, was unhurt.

Brazda Attorneys Given 14 Days To Prepare A Brief

FREMONT, Neb.—(AP)—Attorneys for W. E. (Chili) Brazda have been given 15 days to prepare a brief in a suit against him by a Des Moines, Ia., insurance man.

The Employers Mutual Casualty company is seeking to collect $1,584.72 which it alleges is due from Brazda on collections of insurance.

The Iowa firm contends it had an agreement with Brazda for collection of the premiums.

The 15-day period for preparing a brief was granted by Judge R. A. Robinson in District court here.

Federal court action against Brazda is pending in connection with a federal grand jury indictment of fraud involving allegedly forged counterfeit mortgages and securities.

MRS. FLORENCE BRANSON.

Surviving are a daughter Mrs. Waunetta Ernst, Kenesaw; a son, T. Clenard, North Hollywood, Calif., and two sisters.

Nebr. V F W Praised For Blizzard Aid

By National Commander At State Meeting

OMAHA—(AP)—The national commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars dropped in on the Nebraska state convention "to pay tribute to the Nebraska department."

He told the convention here Tuesday that Nebraska VFW posts "did a fine job in community service during the winter blizzards when departments elsewhere were complaining about the weather.

The VFW commander, Lyall T. Beggs, told the Nebraska convention delegates that he is concerned with disposition of some two billion dollars worth of insurance dividends due veterans as a result of their payments for national service life insurance.

Ponders Delay Cause.

"We want to know if the delay in payment of these dividends is because of the tremendous amount of paper work involved," he said, "or if payment is to be timed with the next general election as campaign bait for veteran votes."

Beggs said that about seven million policies are still in effect.

"The men and women who paid this money need it today. It belongs to them and they should have it to meet present living costs and the threat of growing unemployment," the national commander declared.

He expressed confidence that the Rankin veterans' pension bill will become law.

Stage Parade.

Earlier in the day, the army, navy, air force and marines joined in a VFW parade over nine blocks of the downtown business district.

Among the floats was a display of war equipment and weapons of the various services dating from the Spanish-American war to the present time. Most of the paraders were marching representatives of Nebraska VFW posts.

A reviewing stand was set up on the courthouse lawn. Among those watching the parade from the vantage spot were Beggs; Barney Yanofsky, Kansas City, Mo., VFW editor, and Larry Gaughen, North Bend, Nebraska VFW commander.

Red Cross Groups Merge

GERING, Neb.—(AP)—The three Red Cross chapters in this area have merged to form the Scotts Bluff-Banner counties Red Cross chapter. The three are the Scottsbluff city chapter and groups from Scotts Bluff and Banner counties. Mrs. Lewis Jackson of Morrill is temporary chairman of the combined group.

Death Toll In Heat Belt Mounts To 15

(By the Associated Press)

A mid-June heat wave and drouth threatened crops and fanned fears of serious forest fires in the northeastern states today.

Meanwhile, as the death toll in the New England heat belt mounted to 15 in the last three days, the flash floods and storms in north Texas took the lives of 11 persons.

In the Pacific northwest, there also appeared danger of forest firest because of lack of rain for weeks. Fire hazards are reported in the forests of northwest Washington and northern Idaho as well as in the Cascade mountains and the coastal forests of Washington and Oregon.

Midwest Outlook Good.

But over much of the middlewest, showers and thunder storms have brought needed moisture to farmers, brightening an already favorable crop outlook. The rains were general yesterday over the north central states, with heavy falls in parts of Illinois, Michigan, Indiana, Iowa and Missouri.

No immediate relief from the hot and humid weather appeared in sight for the New England area and a close watch was being kept on the dry forests. Temperatures are in the 80s on the coast and in the 90s inland.

Several small forest fires have been reported in the New England states and New York state. Eleven are burning in the Adirondack mountains, but all are under control.

New Jersey state department of agriculture officials said truck farmers faced a "serious damage" to their crops. They said a $5,100,000 sweet corn and potato crop in Burlington county was endangered unless there is a heavy rainfall soon.

National Capital Parched.

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Rain hasn't fallen in the nation's capital for 18 consecutive days today—the longest spring drouth in the 43 years of recorded weather history.

Previous record was set in 1906 when no rain fell for 16 straight days.

Lack of moisture hasn't hurt the capital noticebly, but nearby Montgomery and Prince Georges counties in Maryland are cutting down on hose sprinkling of lawns and gardens.

Arthur Bistram Waives Hearing On Kidnap Charge

NORFOLK, Neb. — (AP) — Arthur Bistram, fugitive gunman who gave himself up at West Point, Neb., last week, has waived preliminary hearing on a federal charge of kidnaping a police officer at Mandan, N. D.

The 37-year-old St. Paul, Minn., man and three others also are under indictment at Minneapolis, Minn., for first degree murder in the slaying of Fred Babcock, jr., suburban Richfield, policeman during an attempted robbery, June 4.

One of the four, Gustav Johnson, 29, was arrested shortly after. The other three led officers on a wild five-state chase during which they kidnaped seven persons, including Ralph Senn, Mandan, N. D., policeman.

The day after Arthur Bistram gave himself up, his brother, Carl, 27, and Allen G. Hartman, 20, were captured after their car hit a bridge washout injuring them and a hitchhiker riding with them.

Carl Bistram and Hartman are slated for arraignment on the kidnaping charge at Topeka, Kas., June 22. Arthur Bistram appeared before U. S. Commissioner George Dittrick here yesterday. His $20,000 bond was continued.

Nebraskans Prepare For 'Fair' Wheat Crop

(Nebraska's 1949 wheat harvest, which will get under way late in June, is a big job that involves the help of thousands.

(Harold L. Mann, head of the farm placement division of the Nebraska state employment service, tells exclusively to The Star in the first of two articles what part of his office plays in seeing that the job is done.)

As Told by Harold Mann.

Nebraska will produce a fair wheat crop this year although production will not come up to the years of 1946, 1947, and 1948.

And the Nebraska state employment service, part of the division of employment security, has a part in seeing that the wheat crop is harvested. The service, through its farm placement division, is ready to provide help to farmers in the harvest of this year's crop.

Winter wheat acreage sown in Nebraska in the fall of 1948 totaled 4,517,000 acres, as compared wtih 4,419,000 acres sown in the fall of 1947.

Yields Cut.

The fall of 1948 planting constituted one of the largest acreages ever sown to winter wheat in this state.

However, weather, disease and insects are combining to cut total production in bushels for 1949 to an estimated 72,000,000. Total production in bushels equaled approximately 82,000,000 in 1948 and 89,000,000 in 1946 and 1947, two of our best wheat producing years.

Nebraska is one of the 10 top wheat producing states in the nation and lies in what is known as the Great Plains wheat area composed of Texas, Oklahoma, New Mexico, Colorado, Kansas, North and South Dakota, Wyoming and Montana.

Detail Study.

The collection of data on acreages, production, crop conditions, is the job of the department of agriculture's crop statistician, but these figures become important to the employment service farm placement division because they have a direct bearing on the plans of the employment service to furnish men and equipment in the areas where needed during the harvest period.

The job of preparing for the wheat harvest calls for a detailed study by the employment service of pre-harvest crop conditions, plans for recruiting and directing combine crews and labor to areas of need and for giving out accurate information to migratory workers and combine crews as to the weather, crop conditions, demand and supply of workers and equipment in all counties in the state as well as all other nine wheat states.

Combine Guide.

Here are some of the duties of the farm placement division:

1. Early in the year prepare a custom combine operators and labor guide. This guide give harvest dates by areas, lists the addresses and telephone numbers of the 21 local employment offices in the state, as well as volunteer farm placement representatives who will aid the employment service during the wheat harvest. These volunteer workers serve without pay and help in the big job of directing labor.

2. Local employment offices and volunteer representatives work with farm placement throughout the year recruiting and placing all kinds of farm labor, whether it be demand for year-round jobs on the farm or a worker to help put up hay for one day, plus the recruiting and planning which must be made to take care of large seasonal demands such as the detasseling of hybrid seed corn, potato harvest, sugar beet work or the wheat harvest.

3. The farm placement division in the state office in Lincoln, starting in March, prepares corn summaries for custom combine operators in this state and mails these reports to all operators giving them information about the probable starting dates and crop condition of wheat in all the great plains wheat states This year this report was sent to 650 operators in Nebraska who intended to follow the harvest during 1949.

4. Preliminary to the harvest, the employment service will attempt to find out what farmers are going to need in the way of combines, trucks and labor. This is determined by the use of survey cards mailed directly to farmers.

5. All farmers who have not made arrangements for their labor are invited to place their orders at the nearest local office of the employment service for men and equipment.

Normally harvest starts in Nebraska around July 1, usually in the southeastern part of the state and progresses through Nebraska's wheat belt to the southcentral and southwestern and on to the west and northwest part of the state, usually winding up around August 1. However, old man weather has a way of changing the harvest dates and plans must be predicated on being ready to meet any unusual situations which may arise.

But that isn't the whole story as far as Mr. and Mrs. Lowry are concerned — On Monday, June 27, they will celebrate their fiftieth wedding anniversary at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Burlingame. The celebration also will be something in the way of a family reunion—Attending all of the activities will be other sisters of Mrs. Lowry—Mrs. Ralph Zimmerman of Denver, and Mrs. Dwight Pierce of Los Angeles, and Mr. Pierce, Mr. Lowry's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Lowry of Los Angeles, also will be on hand.

Wedding At Exeter

With pedestal baskets filled with white peonies and pink roses appointing the chancel, the marriage of Miss Marilyn Marie Murphy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Murphy of Exeter, to Thomas B. Manning of Burress, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Manning, also of Burress, was solemnized by the Rev. Valery V. Durr at a 9 o'clock ceremony on Saturday morning, June 11, at St. Stephen's church in Exeter. One hundred and seventy-five guests attended the ceremony and the nuptial mass. Miss Marjorie Young of Lincoln, organist, played the wedding music, and also accompanied Lynn Landgren of Lincoln, who sang "Ave Maria' at the offertory of the mass.

MRS. THOMAS B. MANNING

Mrs. Lynn Landgren, as her sister's matron of honor, was frocked in organdy in the aqua shade. Also in organdy frock, styled identically to that worn by the matron of honor, were Miss Janet Murphy, sister of the bride, in lavender; Miss Dorothy Clinkenbeard of Lincoln, in aqua, and Mrs. Norris Frankforter of Friend, in lavender. The attendants carried bouquets of pink roses. Wearing a Kate Greenaway frock in yellow organdy was Mary Sue Landgren, the flower girl, who carried a minature nosegay of pink roses.

Richard Manning of Fairmont served his brother as best man, and the ushers were Noriss Frankforter of Friend, and Francis and Pat Murphy of Lincoln.

The bride entered with her father who gave her in marriage. Her gown of white nylon marquisette was fashioned with a sheer curved yoke in the fitted bodice. A deep ruffle of the marquisette framed the yoke to create the off-shoulder effect, and also was repeated around the points of the long sleeves. Miniature self-covered buttons closed the bodice from the neck to the narrow waist to which was gathered the full skirt. Tiers of ruffles extended from the waistline back, the full length of the long train. Her veil of bridal illusion was fingertip length and was held to the head with a cap of Chantilly lace caught at either side with a cluster of orange blossoms. She carried a white prayer book topped with orchids from which fell a shower of satin ribbons and stephanotis.

Assisting at the reception which followed the ceremony were Mrs. Armin Bender, Mrs. Joe Kuska, Mrs. Alice Biba, Mrs. Burton Farmer, Mrs. Leo Murphy, Miss Catherine Erdkamp, Miss Barbara Bibi, Miss Carol Bibi, Mrs. Richard Manning and Mrs. Francis Murphy.

After a honeymoon trip to Colorado, Mr. Manning and his bride will reside in Burress, where the bridegroom is engaged in business with his father. For traveling Mrs. Manning wore a suit of pink butcher linen, with matching accessories. Her going away corsage was fashioned of orchids.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Manning are former students at the University of Nebraska.

The flag of Cuba was designed in a New York rooming house and first flown over a New York building in 1850.

MR. AND MRS. CHARLES H. ROPER have been exceedingly busy celebrating a fiftieth wedding anniversary this week. The anniversary was Tuesday, June 14, but the excitement really began last week-end when the out of town members of the family began arriving.

The arrival last Friday of the Roper daughter, Mrs. E. J. Colton, Mr. Colton, and their two sons, Pat and Clark, from San Antonio, Tex., completed the immediate family group since Max Roper and Redge Roper, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Roper, reside in Lincoln.

Then came Mrs. Roper's three brothers, Lowell Clark of Wheatland, Wyo.; Fred Clark of Elmhurst, Ill.; and her two sis- Wymore, and Dr. P. R. Clark of ters, Mrs. Nellie Hale of Omaha, and Mrs. Gertrude Ellis of Portland, Ore.

On Monday evening there was a family dinner for the entire family at the University club, and on Tuesday an early luncheon at Cotner Terrace, after which the wedding anniversary celebration began in earnest, with an open house from 2 o'clock until 4 o'clock in the afternoon—and from 7 o'clock until 9 o'clock Tuesday evening.

Greeting the guests at the door, introducing them to the receiving line, and mingling with the guests both afternoon and evening were the five stalwart and handsome grandsons of Mr. and Mrs. Roper—Clark and Pat Colton of San Antonio —Louis Redge and Billy Roper, the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Max Roper, and Charles Harold Roper, II, "Pooch" for short, son of Redge Roper.

The refreshment table was centered with a three-tiered wedding cake, with mounds of yellow and white roses and snapdragons, arranged on either side.

During the first hour in the afternoon the guests were directed to the dining room by Mrs. Harry Spencer, and presiding at the table were Mrs. Leota Breeden and Mrs. Allie Morrow. Assisting in the dining room the first hour were Mrs. Roy Deal, Mrs. A. F. Ackerman, Mrs. Marie Wisda and Mrs. Mary Mayo.

The second hour in the afternoon found Mrs. Stella Miller directing the guests in the dining room where Mrs. L. L. Coryell, sr., and Mrs. Nellie Strader, presided at the table. Assisting in the serving were Mrs. Wilton McMaster, Mrs. Margaret McVicker and Mrs. Adys Cusack.

From 7 o'clock until 8 o'clock, the guests were directed to the dining room by Mrs. Anna Heilig, and presiding at the refreshment table during the period were Mrs. F. R. Hussong and Mrs. William M. Stoner. Assisting in the serving were Mrs. Clair Harper, Mrs. Myrtle Kline, Mrs. Edna Barringer, and Mrs. Elizabeth Miles.

Miss Marilyn Mundt

Weds Donald Criswell

The marriage of Miss Marilyan Mundt, daughter of Mrs. Doris Maskell Mundt of Maskell, and the late George Frederick Mundt, to Donald Eugene Cresswell, of Oshkosh, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Criswell of Chappell, was solemnized at the First Presbyterian church in Sioux City, Ia., on Sunday afternoon, June 12. The lines of the 3 o'clock ceremony were read by the Rev. I. G. Smith before a background of snapdragons, gladioli and peonies, all in white, greenery, and lighted candles in branched holders.

Mrs. Henry Hedeen, organist, played the wedding music.

Miss Phyllis Blatchford of Sioux City, was the maid of honor and only attendant. Miss Blatchford wore an off-shoulder frock of green faille, fashioned with a fitted bodice, completed with a peplum, and a full skirt. She carried a colonial bouquet of yellow daisies.

Don Wright of Chappell served Mr. Criswell as best man, and the ushers were Harold Peterson of Chappell, and Richard Wightman of Mapleton, Ia.

Don K. Mundt gave his sister in marrage. The bridal gown of white tissue faille was styled with a fitted long-sleeved bodice, in which the deep yoke of marquisette was framed with a scalloped bertha. The scallop motif was repeated in the border of the train which completed the full skirt. Her fingertip veil was of bridal illusion, and she carried a bouquet of white roses sweetpeas, and stephanotis.

Assisting at the reception in the church parlors immediately following the ceremony, were Miss Elaine Lahar, Gothenburg; Miss Jean Howe, Wymore; Mrs. Emory Benson, Maskell, and Miss Nelda Rae Wightman, Mapleton, Ia.

BIGGER DEFICIT IN SIGHT

Truman May Make New Tax Increase Appeal

WASHINGTON — (AP) — A budget deficit more than double the $600,000,000 forecast by President Truman now appears in the making for fiscal 1949 when it ends June 30.

Some officials said the seasonal spurt in income tax collections from quarterly payments falling due today will have to be impressive to hold the deficit as low as $1,200,000,000 or even $1,500,000,000.

With the government heading that deep into the red this year—after two consecutive years of surplus—there was some speculation over whether the president might take the occasion to renew his January request for a $4,000,000,000 tax increase.

The budget outlook has turned worse since Mr. Truman asked the tax increase to (1) overcome a deficit he estimated at $873,000,000 for the new fiscal year beginning July 1 (congressional staff estimators say this will be tripled in actual practice) and (2) to permit a substantial reduction in the $251,600,000,000 federal debt.

For expiring fiscal 1949, expenditures have been holding close to the pace of President Truman's January estimate of $40,180,000,000, which counted on an 18 per cent increase over fiscal 1948.

Revenue receipts, however, have been running almost 10 per cent below last year instead of the 6.2 per cent below that Mr. Truman anticipated in his estimate of a $39,580,000,000 total intake this year.

For that reason, the interim deficit—which means excess of spending over income to date—stood above $2,000,000,000 with less than three weeks left in the fiscal year.

A sharp pickup in collections would be necessary to pare that down to $1,500,000,000,000 or below by June 30. Even the normally heavy tax payments received in June are largely offset by heavy expenses scheduled the same month.

Among the heavy outlays will be payments of about $1,500,000,000 in interest on the debt, which now costs more than $5,000,000,000 a year.

Costs going above estimates include the farm price support activities of the Commodity Credit Corp., which used over $1,500,000,000 in the first 11 months of this fiscal year.

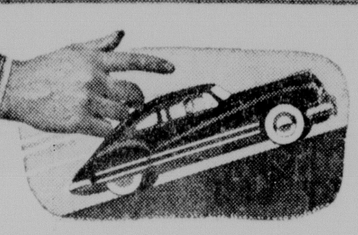
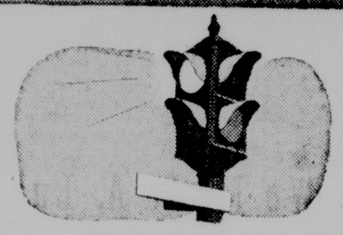
Tip about that trip..

For fun-on-the-run, as you've already discovered, there's no travel mate like that Buick of yours—especially if it's really in the pink.

So while you're readying yourself for vacation tours, how about doing the same for your car—with a little of that special Buick care that does so much to make trips top-notch? For instance—

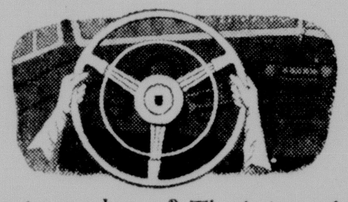


Got plenty of pep? Our engine tune-up is just the ticket to bring back flashing, new-car liveliness on hills and straightaways.



Can you "stop on a dime"? The answer's yes—when our experts get through truing up worn drums, mounting new linings to replace old worn ones.

How's your view? It'll be good, night and day, when you let our experts check your lights, windshield wipers, and windows.



Want a good steer? That's just what you've got, after our front-end experts get through adjusting your steering mechanism to give it new-car lightness.

Chassis sassy?

Does it ride roughly—squeal and squeak at you?

Drive in—we'll "shoot the works" with our grease guns and oilcans to take the noise and stiffness out of your ride—give you easier steering.

And a Buick-trained mechanic will give your car a conscientious trouble-preventing inspection as well—without charge!

In short, start your trip in our shop and you'll find it free of car worries all the way. Drop in—see our facilities—talk to our experts—and see for yourself it's the best insurance of a good time that you can buy.

Handling Cost Relief Cases Is Eight Pct.

Hultberg Reports $1,300,000 In Aid Distributed Here '48

Administrative costs of the Lancaster county department of public welfare represent about eight per cent of the amount spent by the department, Director Leroy Hultberg said Wednesday.

The county welfare staff of about 50 takes care of an average of about 2,500 active cases, he reported. The department spends a total of about $1,300,000 a year.

Higher Than Omaha.

Recent publicity had given the percentage of administrative cost in Lancaster at 10 per cent. Douglas county administrative costs are 5.6 per cent.

Hultberg said there were several reasons for Lincoln's costs being higher than Omaha. First among these is the number of services offered by the Lancaster county office which do not involve paying out money and thereby hike the percentage of administrative costs.

Omaha, with a larger number of private agencies to furnish these services, has been able to keep down its administrative costs. One-fourth of the Lancaster office personnel are employed in services which do not involve paying out money, such as the child welfare division, Hultberg said.

Miss Wallace Dies

Miss Mary E. Wallace, 80, who came to Nebraska from Iowa several years ago, died Wednesday morning at a local hospital. She had been living with her brother, J. E. Wallace, near Ceresco.

Prostitution Is Returning To Many U. S. Communities

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE.
(By the Associated Press)

NEW YORK—(AP) — Commercialized prostitution is returning in many U. S. cities and towns, especially smaller ones, says the Journal of Social Hygiene.

More than half of 213 communities in 42 states and Alaska studied last yaer were "unsatisfactory with relation to prostitution," it said. Most of them were close to military bases.

"Generally speaking, the larger cities have held the line against the prostitution racket. Better police systems, better courts and more highly organized public opinion and action groups, especially the social hygiene societies, have built strong bulwarks.

"Where unsatisfactory conditions are found, it is in the main in the smaller communities—from 5,000 to 100,000 population—where facilities and public backing are less available."

The report says "public lethargy is responsible, almost without exception, for the 'bad' and 'poor' prostitution conditions found in some cities today."

Forty-six states, the District of Columbia, and Hawaii "have laws adequate to protect family and community life against prostitution." There is also a federal law which military authorities can invoke to prohibit prostitution near military establishments.

Nationwide it adds, "the situation does not present any difficulties that cannot be solved by prompt, vigorous community action."

Treasurer's Bond Suit To High Court

Briefs were filed in Supreme court asking reversal of a Douglas county District decree reducing the bond of Ernest A. Adams, treasurer of the Omaha school district from $500,000 to $200,000. The bond was to run four years.

Continental Casualty Co., which furnished the bond, contends the reduction is a violation of the contract it made with the district. They oppose returning part of the premium paid for the larger bond.

Actress Knudsen, Jordan Married

HOLLYWOOD—(INS)—Rumors of a rift in the romance of actress Peggy Knudsen and James C. Jordan, son of radio comedians Fibber McGee and Molly, vanished today as the couple honeymooned.

Jordan, 30, who gave his address as New York City, and Miss Knudsen, 26, obtained a marriage license in Santa Monica yesterday and shortly afterwards were married by Superior Judge Orlando H. Rhodes in his chambers.

About 10 persons attended the wedding party, including Jim Jordan and his wife, Marion—Fibber and Molly.

Young Jordan is a television director in New York City where it was said the newlyweds plan to go shortly.

Y MEN INSTALL PAUL KNAPP AS NEW PRESIDENT

Paul Knapp was installed as president of the Y's Men's club at a Tuesday night meeting at the Y.M.C.A. He was re-elected.

Other re-elected officers installed were Forrest Heapy, secretary, and Harold Graham, director. New officers who took office are George Bent, vice president; Lloyd Jones, treasurer, and L. J. Davis and Raymond Benson, directors.

The installation ceremonies were conducted by A. E. Wolf.

Bassett Ranchers Want Lake Level Lowered Save Hay

Application of Maud and Floyd Lackoff, Bassett, to lower the water level of Frazier lake which covers part of their land was taken under advisement by Fred Klietsch, state engineer, after hearings Tuesday. They claim lowering of the level three feet would reclaim 80 acres of hay land.

L. J. Brown, Bassett, objected to reopening of a drainage ditch as requested saying it would flood his hay land. He contended the relief sought could be obtained by draining into an adjoining pond.

Two Prize Moths Elude Youngsters

Two large and colorful cecropia moths fluttered away from the Harvey A. Wright residence, 3032 W, recently, leaving behind two teen-age admirers.

The youths, Eugene, 13, a Star carrier, and Bobbie, 10, had found the moths' gray, silky cocoons, over three inches long, on two tree limbs in the neighborhood last winter. Until recently, the cocoons had been hanging from the inside screen of the Wrights' back porch.

When the last of the pair slipped from its cocoon Saturday and went skimming about the porch, the lads made plans to catch and mount it in an insect-collection box. But it slipped away from the "junior entomologists" and whisked outside to join the others of its species that are appearing in the greatest number in the state's history this year.

The moths, with wingspan varying from four to six inches, are native to Nebraska. However, they aren't usually observed since they fly at night. The thimble-shaped body is rust-red and white striped. The wings are greyish-brown with multi-colored circular and crescent-shaped spots.

Strikes Beset Italy, France

Higher Wages Issue In Both Countries

ROME—(AP)—More than 1,000,000 farm workers left Italy's ripening fields today in a 24-hour agricultural strike led by communists. Heavy police reinforcements guarded against outbreaks.

The farm strike was accompanied by the threat of a general strike by some five million followers of the communist-controlled general labor confederation (CGIL).

Farm workers now receive about 20,000 lire ($35) a month. Labor leaders want those wages boosted to near parity with industrial salaries which now average about 40,000 lire ($70) monthly. Other demands call for higher family benefits to unemployed or ill farm workers.

700,000 Idle In France.

PARIS — (AP) — About 700,000 French civil servants went out today in a 24-hour "warning" strike for higher wages. Another 300,000 stayed on their jobs, the French ministry of labor reported.

The only place the strike really pinched was in air transport.

Only the Brave

BY PAUL EVAN LEHMAN

Chapter 15

For a long while Jeff knelt there on the ground beside his dead cattle, numb, dazed, heart-sick. He had tasted bitterness when the Herefords were stolen but there had remained the bright hope that they might be recovered. Now they were gone beyond recall. He was licked.

Work, hard work, was the antidote. He remembered it with a bitter grimace. One by one he levered the dead animals and drew them to a ravine farther up the slope.

Early the next morning he went grimly about draining the poisoned pool.

Jeff was in the middle of his task when he looked up to see Glenn riding across the pasture. He drew rein near Jeff and cast a puzzled glance about him. "What in the world are you doing to the water hole?" he asked.

"Draining it. It's been poisoned."

"Poisoned! Where's your cattle?"

"Dead. Every one of them. Poisoned by the water."

Glenn gave him a horrified glance. "No!"

"Yes." Jeff sat down wearily on the edge of the ditch. "Somebody had it in for me and fixed me. Fixed me good."

Glenn shrugged despairingly. "Well, it's the toughest kind of break; but don't let it get you down. I'm beginning to see my way clear, thanks to you. I'll be making money from now on. Here." He took some bills from his pocket and thrust them into Jeff's hand. "Take this; I don't need it. Take it, Jeff."

Jeff smiled slowly and pushed the money away. "Thanks, Glenn. I've enough to live on for a little while and I'm not too old to work."

"But I tell you you've got to take it! It's yours, anyhow; and I'll have more coming in."

"Hang on to it until later. I don't need it now."

Glenn put the bills back into his pocket. "Well, I'll hang on to it, and it's yours for the asking. And for gosh sakes, when you need it, holler. When I think of all you've done for me!" He shook his head. "I'm on my way to the Crown. Why not come along? It'll do you good, and there's nothing to hold you here."

"Theres plenty to do. And I'd just be a wet blanket. No, I'll stay and finish up."

"I still think it would do you good, but I guess I know how you feel. I'll tell Jeb about it; he may have some ideas. So long, and—keep your chin up!"

Glenn told the Kings as soon as he reached the ranch. Jeb was indignant, Mrs. King shocked, and Connie horrified.

"Why, dog my cats!" roared Jeb. "If that's the work of Chuck Gale I'll hunt him down myself and flay the hide off'n him! Poisonin' cattle! There ain't anything lower a man can do."

"I know," agreed Glenn. "But the trouble is we have no proof that it was Chuck. Not a shred. It would seem that the fellow who poisoned them is the same one who ran them off in the first place; but Jeff checked on Gale and found that he and his whole crew spent all of that Sunday in town."

"If it wasn't Chuck, who was it?" asked Connie tightly.

"That's the question. Slug Benjamin's name occurred to me, but Slug doesn't even know Jeff."

"The boy have any other enemies?" asked Jeb.

"No. Not a soul. Jeff, as you know, keeps pretty well to himself. I don't believe he ever tangled with another man in the valley or out of it but Chuck Gale."

"Well," growled Jeb, "they're some things that need lookin' into and I'm goin' to see to it. I'll put John Stover on the job—No, I won't; John's dead. That's another mess that needs cleanin' up. I wonder—" He didn't say what he wondered, but after dinner he went to the corrall and saddled his horse. "Just goin' to drop in on Jeff and see if I can be of any help."

Connie ran to him and impulsively threw her arms about him. "You're absolutely the swellest Dad in the world! The best I ever had! Isn't he, Glenn?"

She turned suddenly and was surprised to see a frown on Glenn's face. When Jeb had gone, Connie turned again to Glenn. She was very quiet and not a little puzzled. "You want to see Jeff helped, don't you, Glenn?"

For a moment he stood gazing after the vanishing Jeb, then faced her and spoke quietly. "Connie, have you ever wondered why Jeff and his father went to such pains to give me everything I needed or wanted? Well, this is why." Briefly and discreetly he told her, for the first time, the story of his father's death, Jeff's oath, and his adoption by the Tylers. "They worked like dogs for me," he concluded. "They did everything mortal man could do to make amends. But there was one thing all the generosity and affection and money in the world couldn't do; they couldn't make me forget that they'd murdered my father." He went on after a moment's pause. "You see what I've been struggling against all these years? There's a desire for revenge, a wish to make the Tylers suffer, that I've got to fight every minute of my life. Then I think of what they've done for me, remember that, after all, the evidence they held seemed to them conclusive, and I know I've been an ungrateful cad. I don't hate Jeff; I admire and like him. And just today I offered him my last cent and was really hurt when he refused to accept it. I want to see your father help him; but whether or not he does, Jeff'll not want as long as I have the brains and the hands to work with."

She came closer to loving him at that moment than ever before or after and that is perhaps the reason why she sent him home at the end of the day with laughter in his heart and a song on his lips. He had struck a responsive chord in her, he told himself, and if he played the tune skillfully enough he would win her yet.

Agreement On Garrison Pool Level Missing

. . . Declares Sloan

WASHINGTON—(AP)—W. G. Sloan, former reclamation bureau engineer, says "no agreement" has been reached between the interior department and the army engineers on the height of the pool level back of the Garrison, N. D., dam now under construction.

Sloan now is chairman of the Missouri basin inter-agency committee. He represents the interior department on the committee, which includes governors of the Missouri basin states.

He is co-author with Maj. Gen. Lewis A. Pick, chief of the army engineers, of the Pick-Sloan plan for development of the Missouri river basin.

Takes Issue With Pick.

In a statement sent to Rep. Lemke (R-ND), who made it public, Sloan took issue with Pick on the latter's testimony June 1 before the house public works committee.

Both testified that day on a measure by Lemke which would limit th pool level to 1,830 feet above sea level. But Pick spoke last and Sloan had no chance to reply then to Pick.

Pick at that time criticized Sloan, saying the latter was "mistaken" in his earlier testimony.

In today's statement, Sloan said he could not agree with Pick that an 1,830 foot pool level would "wreck the entire development."

Sloan contended that an 1,850 pool level desired by Pick had never been agreed to by the interior department.

Pick said at the June 1 hearing that it was understood at a 1945 meeting of the inter-agency committee that the dam would be built to permit a pool level of 1,850 feet.

Commenting on this, Sloan said today the interior department at that time insisted on the phrase "permitting" the higher pool level if later studies and agreements showed the necessity for the higher elevation. He said such agreemnets have not been reached.

Sloan said that prior to this year it has not been necessary to reach an agreement with the army engineers of the height of the pool level becaus such a limitatio has been placd in annual appropriation bills.

Strawberry Grows In Shape Of Heart

When Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Austin of 1132 Vale street plant strawberries in their garden strange things happen.

Instead of getting fruit of the ordinary shape and size their berries ripen in twos and threes and this year's prize is a perfectly formed heart about the size of three average strawberries.

Last year one of their green peppers surprised them by turning into what looked like the "French Angel."

The Austins offer no explanation of these garden phenomena but it takes the monotony out of an otherwise routine spring enterprise.

Two Whites Freed After A Lynching

. . . Indictment Refused

IRWINTON, Ga.—(INS)—Two white men arrested in connection with the lynch slaying of Caleb (Pickie Pie) Hill, Irwinton Negro, are free today.

A Wilkinson county grand jury refused yesterday to indict the men—Dennis L. Purvis, 37, and Malcolm V. Pierce, 27-year-old nephew of County Sheriff George Hatcher.

They were arrested by Georgia bureau of investigation agents several days after Hill was taken from the county jail, beaten and shot to death. The warrant for their arrest was sworn out by the Negro's widow, a mother of three.

Sheriff Hatcher said the lynching—the first in the country for 1949—might have been a mistake. Hatcher said a false rumor had gone around Irwinton the night of the lynching that Hill had killed the sheriff.

Hatcher had arrested the Negro shortly before for allegedly stabbing another Negro. In the process of arresting him, Hill had jerked the sheriff's pistol from his holster and a shot was fired.

Big War On 'Hoppers Opens In Wyoming

. . . Poison Laden Planes Take Off From 5 Bases

SHERIDAN, Wyo.—(AP)—The big air war to head off a new grasshopper plague started today on the ranges of Wyoming and Montana.

From five bases, poison-laden planes were taking off on the first flights of a month-long aerial "bombing" campaign. The goal is to wipe out the grasshoppers in their favorite nesting grounds.

"We are just beginning to give them hell," said Leo Ivorson of the U. S. department of agriculture.

For three weeks, parties of bug experts under Ivorson's supervision rode over a 30,000,000-acre danger zone, picking out the worst grasshopper concentration places. They pin-pointed on county maps the areas where the 'hopper population was "critical"—where 30 to 200 could be counted in a square yard.

New poisons, chlordane and toxaphene, concealed in a bran the grasshoppers like will be spread over these areas by planes. These insecticides are so lethal only four-tenths of one ounce in five pounds of bran will cover an acre. The USDA expects a 99 per cent kill.

The range 'hoppers are about half-grown now. If left to live they would sprout wings in 10 days and take off in swarms to devastate cropland over a tremendous area.

Grasshopper outbreaks are causing concern right now in Wisconsin, Texas, California and Illinois, but the Montana-Wyoming infestation is by far the gravest.

"If we don't get it now," declased Jim R. Dutton, of the U. S. grasshopper control division, "it could spread like wildfire."

The United States has almost doubled its pre-war output of peanuts. Production in India and China, the other two biggest producers, was greater last year than before the war.

Girl Shoots Waitkus

19-YEAR-OLD FAN WHO HAD NEVER MET PHILLIE STAR

CHICAGO — (INS) — Eddie Waitkus, unmarried first-baseman of the Philadelphia Phillies, was shot and seriously wounded early Wednesday by an attractive 19-year-old brunette who was "infatuated" with the handsome major leaguer.

The girl, Ruth Steinhagen of Chicago, who had never met the star ballplayer, said "You can ask my psychiatrist" when asked why she shot Waitkus.

He was given blood transfusions and oxygen was being administered in an effort to save his life.

A note found in the girl's Chicago hotel room where the shooting occurred indicated she intended to commit suicide after the attack. Police discovered the note torn to shreds. It read:

Rifle Shot.

"Dear family: I hope you understand what I am doing. Things will work out for the best and will be a lot better this way."

The bullet, fired from a .22 caliber rifle, struck the 29-year-old "Rookie of 1947" in the right chest and punctured his right lung.

He was given a blood transfusion a few hours after being taken to Illinois Masonic hospital and was reported in "fair" condition by hospital attendants.

Niss Steinhagen, a typist employed by the Continental Casualty Insurance Co., of Chicago, wrote a month ago to the hotel asking for a room reservation for June 13, the date she checked into the Edgewater Beach, the hotel used by the Phillies as their headquarters when stopping in Chicago.

Excitement Tuesday.

Joyce Stingley, 19-year-old friend who lived across the hall from Miss Steinhagen's one-room apartment said the six-foot tall brunette predicted last Thursday night that "Tuesday night there'll be some excitement" when the two of them were discussing their boredom. She said:

"Last Thursday night I mentioned to Ruth I was bored and she said: 'Wait until Tuesday night, there'll be some excitement and you'll forget all about being bored.'"

A hotel spokesman said that after the shooting a letter written to Waitkus was found in the room which read:

"Dear Mr. Waitkus:

"You don't know who I am. You've never seen me. I would like to see you on an important matter. I must see you."

CHANGES MIND.

The girl was quoted by police as saying:

"I have been a Waitkus fan since he was the Cubs' first baseman. I registered at the hotel Monday and went to the game Tuesday.

"After the game was over, I returned to the hotel, wrote a note to Eddie and gave a bellboy $5 to deliver it.

"Late Tuesday night Waitkus called my room and asked, 'why did you write me the note?'

"I told him, 'I've got to see you. It's very important.'

"A few minutes later he rapped on my door. I had a paring knife and planned to stab him as he entered the room."

Miss Steinhagen said she changed her mind and continued:

"As he came into the little hallway just inside the door, he asked me what I wanted.

"I told him, 'I've got a little surprise for you.'

"Then I went into a closet, got the rifle and fired one shot at him."

The Phillies, who are in town for a four-game series with the Chicago Cubs, beat the Northside team, 9 to 2, in the first contest Tuesday.

TAKE THREE STITCHES.

Three stitches were taken in the right side of Waitkus' chest to close the wound. He did not regain consciousness in Illinois Masonic hospital for more than two hours.

Police said she related:

After she sent Waitkus the note, Waitkus first telephoned her but she told him she wanted to see him in person. Waitkus came to her room and knocked on the door. She put a paring knife into the pocket of her skirt and, still holding it, opened the door, intending to stab Waitkus as he entered.

Police said she telephoned the hotel switchboard operato and then told Edward Purdy, the house detective, that "I just shot a man. There's a long story behind this, but I'm not going to talk about it." Purdy found her on a bench near the elevators. Waitkus was lying on his back on the floor of the room. The rifle was on the floor.

Taken to the hospital, Miss Steinhagen did not answer when Waitkus asked her, "why did you do it."

Warren said the brown-eyed girl, six feet tall, told him she gave a bell boy a note to deliver to Waitkus Tuesday.

Warren quoted her as telling him she was "a fit case for a psychiatrist."

She told newsmen she shot Waitkus because "the tensi n has been building up within me and I thought killing someone would relieve it."

She said she didn't remember exactly when she thought of killing Waitkus. She bought the rifle in a pawn shop.

He spent three years in the army—1943, 1944, and 1945. He saw extensive combat service with the amphibious engineers in the Pacific theater.

He became a cub regular in 1946. In his three years with the club, he hit .304, .292 and .296.

Waitkus and his Phillie roommate, Outfielder Bill Nicholson, also a Cub until last winter, were extremely popular with the Wrigley Field fans. They were idols of the bobby-soxers. When the Phillies were due here on their first trip to Chicago recently, the big sign in front of the field admonished to fans to see "Waitkus and Nick" return.

The affair reminded Chicago fans of the shooting of Bill Jurges, former popular Cub shortstop, July 6, 1932. Jurges, then 24, was shot three times in the left hand and twice in the left side, by a 21-year-old divorcee and show girl.

The girl, Violet Popovich Valli, said she and Jurges had been friends for about a year and that he had broken off the romance three weeks before the shooting.

Violet was charged with assault with intent to kill but Jurges declined to prosecute. He was in a hospital about two weeks, before he recovered.

SHOT HER HERO—Ruth Ann Steinhagen (right), who shot Ed Waitkus, Philadelphia Phillies first baseman early Wednesday, smiles as she returns to the scene of the shooting in a police car. The 19-year-old brunette seriously wounded Waitkus in a north side hotel in Chicago. Police Capt. John T. Warren said Miss Steinhagen admitted the shooting. She is being held without charge. Entry Date Later - 17th

. . . Junior Golf Tilt

Deadline for Junior Amateur golf tournament entries has been extended to June 17. The previously announced date was June 15.

The state junior link tourney will be played June 26 and 27 at the Hillcrest Country club. Qualifying rounds for Lincoln will be played June 20, at the pioneer club. A score of 147 on 36 holes is necessary to qualify.

Entries should be sent to Arthur Hill at the Lincoln Junior Chamber of Commerce, Lincoln. Any male golfer who has not reached his 19th birthday by July 15 is eligible to play.

Seven men will qualify at the June 26-27 meet for the National Junior Amateur golf tournament to be held in Houston, Tex., August 1 to 6. The qualifiers will have their expenses paid.

Chick Battey, Erv Peterson and Roy Wythers, jr. are among those who have already filed entry blanks for the National meet Battey was low qualifier in the Nebraska Junior tourney last year.

An entry fee of $1.00 will be charged each contestant. Arrangements have been made to lodge all players and meals will be available at the Hillcrest club.

The junior amateur tilt will be governed by the United States Golf association rules.

The Firing Line

BILL GLASSFORD and his Cornhusker football aids are missing few tricks . . . Not since D. X. Bible days has the state been canvassed so thoroughly for talent of the gridiron . . . Of the 1,100 miles he's traveled over the state, Backfield Coach Bob Davis estimated 500 miles were on dirt roads . . . Webb Emory, director of the seven weeks Red Cross swim course, continues to be amazed by the response . . . Webb, the Lincoln high aquatic mentor, expected a total of 700 or 800 registrants . . . Instead, 1,300 reported to the Muny pool and another 450 at Northeast . . . Lou Limmer of the A's wants to be a baseball manager in post-playing days . . . The 185-pound, Bronx, N. Y., native was a basketball whiz in high school . . . He also participated in football and swimming . . . Larruping Lou lists his prime thrill as hitting a home run with the bases loaded during the 1948 Western league play-offs . . . Earl Wenbourne, headliner on Adam Krieger's fairgrounds boxing show Friday eve, has shown consistent improvement since he launched a pro career a year ago . . . One reason for the rugged collegian's improvement might be traced to his instructor, Harold Matthews of Lincoln, the old bantamweight scrapper . . . Remember him? . . . His pro career included 62 wins, six defeats and two draws and carried him to national repute . . . Harold, now 43 and working on his Ph.D. degree, in psychology at NU, has great respect for Wenbourne's strength, punch and endurance . . . If Wenbourne can improve his all-around savvy, particularly his infighting, Matthews believes he might be a national name . . . Harold's two children are Donald, a medical student at the university, and Patricia of Northeast high . . . The ex-bantam king thinks that Jimmy Carnes of Kansas City, also on the Friday program, has a bright future . . . Jim Thorpe, the old football immortal, is now a guide at Suey Welch's supper club in Los Angeles . . . Kip Taylor, new Oregon State coach, recently accused UCLA of spying on his spring drills. . . You never heard Lonnie Stiner, the old OS mentor, making such foolish accusations.

Bob Davis.

AMONG irritating items: The constant paging at Sherman field . . . Suggested remedy would be to have physicians and other persons expecting calls leave their names and seat locations at the office . . . The ushers could readily do the notifying . . . During a single game, the Cubs' Dutch Leonard pitches 95 per cent knucklers.

Jean Dobbin, 18-year-old St. Louis linker, has enrolled for the Women's Trans-Mississippi at the Country club June 27 to July 3 . . . A student at Miami U., Florida, Jean has been playing golf only two years . . . She won the Norwood Hill (St. Louis hole-in-one tourney recently.

Southern Methodist and Oregon U. drew exactly $108,909 each as their share of the 1949 Cotton Bowl game.

Big league teams, especially the Pittsburgh Pirates, are wondering how Oakland (Pacific Coast league) got California's Jackie Jensen for a paltry $6,000 . . . One reason might be that Jackie's college roommate is the son of Cliff Laws, Oakland owner.

On the faculty at the present coaching school at Adams State college in Alamosa, Colo., are basketball professors Vadal Peterson of Utah and Clair Bee of Long Island . . . Tutoring football at the school are Lynn Waldorf of California and Carl Snavely of North Carolina . . . Neal Mehring, assistant Husker coach, founded the famed Alamosa school several years back when he was athletic director there.

Boxing Show Is Off

. . . Wiley's Mother Ill

The 28-round boxing show, scheduled for the fairgrounds arena Friday night, has been cancelled, Promoter Adam Krieger said today.

Krieger listed the absence of Lincoln's Wiley Ferguson, who was to meet Leonard Finger of Omaha in a main event, as the main reason for postponing the bouts.

Ferguson is in West Virginia, called there by the serious illness of his mother.

The card will be staged at a later date, according to Krieger.

Pueblo Blanks Lincoln

Lehman's 3-Hit Mound Job Silences A's, 5-0

By NORRIS ANDERSON.

LINCOLN'S late diamond arising blew a series of fuses here Tuesday night and was neatly exploded off Sherman Field, 5-0, by alert Pueblo.

A 22-year-old southpaw pitcher named Kenny Lehman, proved a severe antidote against a poisonous Lincoln attack that has averaged 12 base hits a game over the past two weeks.

Lehman's jet-propelled fast ball and darting curve left the A's "murderers' row" without a weapon, victim of a scathing three-hit shut out.

Pueblo, meanwhile, jumped on A's starter Bob Palash for four runs in the first inning, another in the third, and never experienced even a semi-anxious moment.

FEW ANXIOUS MOMENTS.

Brother Lehman, the skinny kid who hurled for Pueblo Manager Ray Hathaway at Santa Barbara, Calif., in 1947, allows few moments of anxiety. His record is now 8-1.

Boss Jimmy DeShong's hithertorampant A's thus saw a three game win streak snapped. They also lost a chance to hit a .500 pace for the first time this season.

Before the game was 10 minutes old, the darting Dodgers owned a 4-0 lead.

It started on Bobby Stewart's infield bobble and Jim Williams' double to centerfield.

It picked up momentum on Danny Holden's single to centerfield, scoring Torpey and Williams, and Vic Marasco's double to center, scoring Holden.

After Jim Van Hooreweghe singled to center, driving in Marasco, the rally subsided.

Quick as a hare, Pueblo had a big early jump. And slow as a tortoise, the lead seemed to grow larger as Lehman mowed 'em down.

MARASCO SCORES.

Marasco, another of Hathaway's Santa Barbara boys of '47 scored the solo Pueblo run in the third. On with a double to rightfield, the sawed-off blaster romped home on Van Hooreweghe's single to right.

Al Bower relieved Palash, lifted for a pinch-hitter, in the eighth.

Five of Pueblo's ten hits were solid doubles.

Only two A's even ventured as far as third. Lou Limmer made it in the second on a single, a walk by Joe Aliperto and Tommy Kirk's high fly to center.

Walt Novick accomplished the feat in the fifth on a blooping single to centerfield and successive walks by Palash and Rocky Ippolito.

An audience of 3,071, boosted by a peppy crew of knotholers, watched Lehman notich nine strikeouts.

Lincoln defensive work was featured by three sparkling stops-and-throws by Shortstop Bobby Stewart and Moskovich's one-hand stab of Holden's poker

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

Stocks Up; Fair Demand

NEW YORK—(AP)—A moderate increase in demand gave the stock market one of the biggest lifts in the past three months today.

Final prices showed gains of fractions to around 2 points, with a few stocks going even higher. The market closed at or near the best prices of the day.

The failure of the market to go below the 4½-year low hit Monday was suggested as a possible reason for the market's improved showing.

A rally started Tuesday but sputtered out before it ever got going.

Steel and motor stocks were among the best performers, with rails, oils, rubbers, and non-ferrous metals following close behind.

Turnover was at the rate of around 900,000 shares.

Divorce Suit Against Sen. Cain Dropped

. . . At Wife's Request

TACOMA, Wash.—(AP)—A divorce action against U. S. Sen. Harry P. Cain was dismissed in Superior court yesterday.

Mrs. Cain, who filed the divorce action Feb. 9, requested the dismissal. The dismissal was "without prejudice," meaning it can be renewed in the future.

The Cains have two children, Harry, jr., 11, and Marlyce Lenore, 5.

In Washington, Sen. Cain said: "I have made up my mind to say notring about this to anyone. It is a personal matter."

The republican senator had filed a cross-complaint and answer in which he denied the allegations of his wife's complaint, but asked that the decree be granted.
